JOHN L. MCKEWEN, Johns Hopkins
Grand President of Delta Sigma Pi

A Message from the Grand President

WHEN I WAS ELECTED PRESIDENT of Delta Sigma Pi in September 1939 it was my fondest wish that my administration carry on as normally as possible throughout its entire term of office. You will recall that during our Grand Chapter Congress in Philadelphia the first week of September 1939 War was declared in Europe. The fraternity took steps at that time to be prepared for any emergency, granting emergency powers to the Grand Council so that they would be prepared to deal quickly with any problems resulting from the War. Now, just as we are approaching our next Grand Chapter Congress, which was scheduled to be held in Minneapolis next September, our Nation is at War, fighting for its very existence. Many things have happened in recent weeks which vitally affect, temporarily at least, the life of every citizen of our Country. We are being confronted with rapidly changing conditions daily and no one can definitely forecast what is going to happen even a month hence. More than 90 per cent of the undergraduates and alumni attending our Grand Chapter Congress have, in the past, traveled there by automobile. Our Grand Chapter Congress is no small meeting; over 400 were registered at the last one. Prior to tire rationing we anticipated a very satisfactory attendance at the forthcoming Minneapolis meeting. But since Pearl Harbor and now with tire rationing and the possibility of gasoline rationing—how will this affect the attendance this year? The Grand Council is, therefore, faced with the problem of whether we shall proceed with the plans for our meeting this fall, regardless of the attendance and cost, or shall it be postponed?

Of course, it is quite possible that in the very near future this question may be definitely answered for us by the restriction on train travel, the rationing of gasoline, and other regulations. But this important meeting must be planned and organized in advance, now, and we cannot wait until mid-summer to do this. After giving this matter many, many hours of serious consideration for the past several months, and after conferring with many fraternity workers, I have come to the firm opinion that it would be impracticable, and possibly unpatriotic, to hold the Grand Chapter Congress as originally scheduled. Impracticable because of the small attendance of members that the Congress would attract under prevailing conditions, and unpatriotic because of the rubber tire and gas situation and because of the possible need of railroad facilities for services more vital to the successful conclusion of the War than the holding of a national convention by any fraternity.

This is an episode in my term of office I have hated to write, but we must face the issue, squarely. Reluctantly, I have recommended to the Grand Council of Delta Sigma Pi that they approve the indefinite postponement of our 14th Grand Chapter Congress, under the special authority granted this body by our last Grand Chapter Congress. I submitted a detailed report outlining the several reasons that prompted this decision. The Grand Council has approved this action and a report will be mailed to all chapters and alumni clubs soon giving them full information as to the factors we considered in arriving at this decision. I am confident that future developments will prove the wisdom of this action and we seek the patriotic and fraternal support of our entire membership in approving and supporting this decision.

Another factor played a part in this decision. It is only natural that any group staging a Grand Chapter Congress wants to make their meeting the biggest and best ever held. This is only human. The Minneapolis members of Delta Sigma Pi are very anxious to have the next Grand Chapter Congress in their city and they want to do a swell job with it. They want the members to return to their respective cities, chapters, and alumni clubs singing the praises of Minneapolis, our Minnesota chapter, and Twin Cities Alumni Club and the national fraternity. But with a small attendance, and many of their local alumni away in service, it is impossible to stage the size and type of national meeting most desired. Our Country's War effort is foremost in the minds of our members now and we should co-operate in this War effort in every way possible.

Victory will come, and our Grand Chapter Congresses will be resumed with larger attendance and more enthusiasm than ever before. I am sure that we can count on the continued loyal devotion of our entire membership and the concentration of their efforts in the local development of their chapters and alumni clubs to the highest degree of efficiency possible, and their continued successful operation throughout this emergency.

Pending consideration by the Grand Council of the fraternity of my recommendation regarding the postponement of the Grand Chapter Congress and the polling of their vote, we have held up the publication of this issue of THE DELTASIG about one month in order to convey this official message to our entire membership.

Fraternity to Inaugurate Special War Services

WITH SCORES OF ADDITIONAL MEMBERS of Delta Sigma Pi entering the armed forces of our country every month, and with indications that this will continue for some time, the fraternity is formulating plans to enable it to be of special service to these many members in our armed forces. Several meetings of fraternity officers, workers and committees are now being scheduled and it is hoped that we will have our plans completed by early fall and the necessary administrative machinery established for successful execution.

First of all, the Central Office of the fraternity has already established and is maintaining a Membership Directory of all members in service. This information is filed alphabetically and also by camps. Any member may write to the Central Office and secure valuable Directory information at any time. Directories of members in service may be mimeographed for distribution or this information may be published in the columns of THE DELTASIG. Membership lists will be published for fraternity members within the same camp or training school and sent to members there thus enabling them to contact each other easily. Many members in service have told us that such information would be more than welcome by them as it would enable them to look up their fraternity brothers in their leisure hours and get acquainted with them. This is simply another one of the many benefits of membership in a large national college fraternity—the privilege of making many friends through fraternity contacts anywhere in the country, yes, either in the army or out of it. Members from different chapters have been stationed in the same camp within a few hundred feet of each other and their mutual membership in Delta Sigma Pi would not be discovered unless some service of this kind was provided.

Members in service also look forward eagerly for something to do while on leave or short furloughs. Many are in camps at great distance from their cities or residence, too far away to return while on short furloughs. But they could visit nearby cities where Delta Sigma Pi alumni reside and they could make mutually enjoyable fraternal contacts in these cities, particularly on weekends. And our alumni would welcome this opportunity of expanding their fraternal contacts, of rendering this special service to their fraternity brothers, and of inviting them into their homes even though the visit might be only for a few hours or a weekend. The alumni approached on this project have been enthusiastic about it; many have volunteered to participate actively in it. Every alumnus willing to join in this worthwhile project should address a letter to the Central Office immediately volunteering his services. He will then be sent the names of one or more members in nearby camps and he can contact these members by correspondence. Better still take the service directory published in this issue, select the names of several members located near you and write them voluntarily, immediately.

It is also possible that alumni clubs or chapters located near camps can schedule some special entertainment for our members in service and which these members may be able to attend in a body.

The camp officers we have consulted regarding these proposed projects have all enthusiastically endorsed same and pledged their co-operation. They have also offered to post bulletins in their camps or mention this Delta Sigma Pi activity in the camp newspapers.

Other special services have been suggested by different members and are being referred to various committees. We welcome your suggestions. We may appoint special committees here and there to render special aid to undergraduate chapters whose membership may become seriously affected by the War. And surely, after Victory, there will be an unprecedented demand for assistance from our important Committee on Alumni Placing Service.

The scope and activities of our Committee on Alumni Activities now assume a greater significance than ever before. We have just outlined special services for our members in uniform. There will also be a need for special services, equally important, for members who may not be in uniform. The War is causing a dislocation of many businesses. Firms who have had successful records over a period of many years now find themselves for the first time in history, unable to continue normal business operations because of a scarcity of certain vital and essential materials. This has resulted in many members with excellent business records becoming unemployed through no fault of theirs. And other firms engaged in War efforts need additional experienced personnel and their needs will become more acute with each month. The fraternity should have facilities to render a specialized service to both these members and to these firms seeking additional personnel. It is hoped that our alumni will be generous in their support of the fraternity activities during these critical years in order that we may render the greatest possible service to all without interruption.

Professional Interfraternity Conference Meets in Chicago

THE TENTH BIENNIAL MEETING of the Professional Interfraternity Conference was held at the Morrison Hotel, Chicago, on Friday and Saturday, October 10 and 11, 1941, and proved to be one of the most successful ever held by the Conference. There was a large attendance of fraternity representatives. A meeting of the Executive Committee of the Professional Interfraternity Conference was held on Friday afternoon, October 10, and several of the member fraternities held group meetings preceding the big Interfraternity Banquet held that evening. The Chicago Alumni Club of Delta Sigma Pi supported this banquet actively and scheduled their regular monthly meeting for the night of this banquet; 54 members of Delta Sigma Pi attended the Interfraternity Banquet.

The Interfraternity Banquet was the most interesting feature of the Conference and was held in the Terrace Casino of the Morrison Hotel with almost 300 members of professional fraternities in attendance. H. G. Wright, Grand Secretary-Treasurer of Delta Sigma Pi and Secretary-Treasurer of the Professional Interfraternity Conference, was the General Chairman in charge of this banquet. Mr. A. L. Doud, Jr., of Delta Theta Phi law fraternity, welcomed the group present in behalf of the Conference and introduced the Toastmaster of the evening, Dr. Morris Fishbein, editor of the Journal of the American Medical Association and past national president of his medical fraternity, Phi Delta Epsilon. Dr. Fishbein proved to be a Toastmaster par excellence.

The speaker of the evening was Judge John Gutknecht of the Municipal Court of Chicago, and a member of Delta Theta Phi law fraternity and his subject was "Pan America and the World Crisis." His talk was well received by those present. Brother Wright then introduced the many national officers and fraternity dignitaries present. Following the banquet several fine acts from the leading night clubs of Chicago were presented and thoroughly enjoyed by all those in attendance.

This Interfraternity Banquet had been planned and staged by representatives of the members of the Conference who met frequently during the several months preceding the meeting and completed the necessary arrangements. It was felt that a fine start had been made in this connection and that at future meetings of the Conference this Interfraternity Banquet would be made a prominent feature and would meet with increasing response and increasing attendance with each succeeding year.

The business sessions of the Conference were held on Saturday, October 11. President A. L. Doud called the Conference to order and then read his report which showed that considerable progress had been made during the previous two years. The report of the Secretary-Treasurer of the Conference was then presented. Present membership in the Conference comprises 26 of the leading professional fraternities. Of particular significance was the accomplishment of the Conference in providing for more prominent and adequate representation of professional fraternities in the recently published edition of Baird's Manual. Another project of great importance to the Conference was the publication of a booklet during the previous year on "Professional Interfraternity Councils" which was prepared by a special committee of which Mr. J. D. Sparks of Alpha Kappa Psi (commerce) was chairman.

At each Conference a guest speaker is invited to address the delegates present and the guest speaker at this meeting was Dr. Raymond B. Allen, of Phi Beta Pi (medical), executive dean of the University of Illinois Schools of Medicine, Dentistry and Pharmacy in Chicago, who spoke on "Professional Fraternities in a Changing World."

A forum discussion then followed on Maintaining Alumni Interest, participated in by three speakers. The first speaker was Mr. E. Keener, Phi Delta Kappa (education), principal of the Hay School of Chicago, whose subject was "Sustaining Alumni Interest Through Organized Clubs." Dr. John E. Gurley of San Francisco, an editor of The Frater of Psi Omega (dentistry), spoke on "Your Fraternity Magazine as a Continuous Alumni Contact." Then Mr. Logan Anderson of the publications department of the R. R. Donnelley & Sons Company and a member of Phi Delta Kappa (education) spoke on "Is Your Magazine Read? Is It a Friend or Foe?"

Mr. J. D. Sparks of Indianapolis, of Alpha Kappa Psi (commerce), then presented a paper on "Local Professional Interfraternity Councils" and emphasized the importance of professional fraternities participating in these activities on their respective campuses. Copies of the booklet published by the Conference "Professional Interfraternity Councils" may be secured from the Secretary of the Conference by anyone interested in this activity.

Dr. Marvin C. Rogers, of Alpha Chi Sigma (chemistry), and director of research of R. R. Donnelley & Sons Company, and a former president of our Conference, then spoke on "Time and Methods of Pledging."

An interesting discussion was conducted by Dr. Harry G. Irvine of Minneapolis, past national president of Alpha Kappa Kappa (medical), on "The Effects of the War on the Professional Fraternities."

Grand Secretary-Treasurer H. G. Wright discussed the subject of "Membership Directories—Their Value."

One of the most interesting features of the business sessions was the round table discussion of the current administrative problems affecting member fraternities. This was an "off the record" discussion and any member having any sort of problem could present this to the Conference and receive the benefit of the varied experiences of the many delegates present. This proved a most beneficial session and the delegates really discussed frankly their many problems.

The discussions were concluded by an excellent talk by Mr. Paul M. Cook, of Phi Delta Kappa (education), on "The Function of the Professional Fraternity.”

Several routine business matters were disposed of, various resolutions adopted, and the report of the Committee on Nominations was then received. The following officers were unanimously elected for the coming biennium:

President . . . . Paul M. Cook, Phi Delta Kappa (education)
2043 Ridge Road, Homewood, Illinois

Lawrence Templeton, Kappa Psi (pharmacy)

808 S. Wood Street, Chicago, Illinois

Grand Secretary-Treasurer Wright has served as Secretary-Treasurer of the Professional Interfraternity Conference continuously since 1933, a total of eight years of service.

Following adjournment the newly elected Executive Committee met and formulated plans for the activities of the Conference during the coming two years. The President and the Secretary of the Conference were authorized to attend a meeting to be held in Cleveland later in October, with representatives of various other conferences, to discuss the proper classification of all Greek letter fraternities. It was also voted to publish and distribute a News Bulletin from time to time to be distributed among all member fraternities and to contain news and information that would be of interest to them.

The Paper Industry in the Miami Valley

By Halsey E. Ramsen

Associate Professor of Industrial Management, Miami University

AN OLD SLOGAN FREQUENTLY HEARD in the paper business in the Miami Valley is, "Everything but newsprint." That expresses in a few words a picture of one of the leading industries in the valley area formed by the Great Miami River and the Little Miami River in southwestern Ohio, familiarly known as the Miami Valley.

When we examine the variety of papers manufactured in the Valley the truth of that slogan is apparent. A list of grades produced includes rag bond—ledger, mimeograph, and writing; sulphite (wood) bond—ledger, mimeograph, and writing; coated and uncoated book; bristol; envelope; greeting card; blotting; filter; matrix; cover; onion skin; coated and uncoated board. Other grades manufactured are tissue, wrapping, news and chip board, straw board for corrugating, box board, butter carton board, bottle wrapper, rope paper, cartridge, candy, blue macaroni, adding machine and register rolls, bag paper, playing card stock, die wiping, and many other specialties.

The manufacture of paper and paperboard in the United States is a huge industry. The value of its products in 1939 totaled $933,015,664; the investment in equipment, land, and buildings approximated $1,000,000,000; and employment was provided for approximately 110,575 wage earners. Compared with other industries in the United States, on the basis of value of products, paper and paperboard rank twelfth, being outranked only by such industries as food, textiles, iron, steel, etc. In the Miami Valley there are approximately 300,000 wage earners and the employment of approximately 8,000 of these in paper and paperboard factories makes this industry of major importance in the Valley.

Locational Factors

In an endeavor to describe and explain the relationship existing between the natural environmental conditions and the starting development of the paper industry in the Miami Valley, it is necessary to look at certain fundamental factors.

Throughout the Miami Valley there are certain geological features which influenced the start of this thriving industry. When the glaciers moved from this area they left behind a cover accumulation of fine rock fragments which served as a natural filter for water. This is an important natural resource. An abundant supply of clean pure water made possible the manufacture of fine papers since the water proved to be free of impurities which discolor paper. One mill in the Valley uses 24,000,000 gallons of water daily, an amount sufficient to supply a city of 300,000 population.

The Great Miami and the Little Miami Rivers proved to be also an excellent source of power for the start of the paper industry. Hydraulics were constructed along the rivers and there were located some of the first paper mills. Early leases included water power on the hydraulics which were perpetual and found to be later, when no longer useful, hard to cancel.

HALSEY E. RAMSEN
Chi Chapter, Johns Hopkins University

One mill gave $13,000 to cancel its lease as recently as 1921. At the southern end of the Valley was located Cincinnati, then the largest city of the West, with a population of 9,642 in 1820 and 115,435 in 1850.

Historical Development of the Paper Industry in the Miami Valley

The geographical and historical factors in the Miami Valley paper industry were closely interwoven. A brief account of the historical setting follows: The first paper mill operated west of the Allegheny Mountains was built in 1810 by John Smith at Milford, adjacent to the shore of the Little Miami River. It was called the Waldschmidt Mill. Previous to the operation of the Waldschmidt Mill, the newspapers in Cincinnati were issued at irregular intervals owing to if and when paper could be had from Philadelphia. This Waldschmidt Mill, the "daddy" of all the numerous mills in the Miami Valley, was abandoned in 1850. Other early mills were the Skinner Mill at Hamilton; the Chatfield and Woods Mill at Woodsdale, part of which is still standing; and the Graham Mill at Blackbottom, near Symmes Corner on the east bank of the Great Miami River. These mills date from 1845. The building of the Skinner Mill still stands at the corner of Buckeye and Fifth Streets in Hamilton although the company discontinued operations about 1890. It had one paper machine about thirty-five feet long and three small beaters set in front of it which, judging by modern standards, were tiny affairs.

In 1848 the mill now known as the Beckett Mill in Hamilton was started by Calvin Reilly of Toledo who had heard that water power was available in Hamilton on a canal near Cincinnati, the largest city in the West. He interested Adam Laurie, a young Glasgow paper maker, and they formed a partnership. The original investment to start business was $12,000. This was a far cry in comparison to a modern mill such as the Champion Paper and Fibre Company which has an investment today of $14,000,000 in Hamilton. In 1852, the Erwin Mills in Middletown were completed to manufacture book paper and newsprint, and soon afterward wrapping and roofing paper. The Harding-Jones Mill, the oldest writing paper mill west of the Allegheny Mountains, was founded at Excello in 1865.

The Champion Paper and Fibre Company with headquarters at Hamilton was founded in 1894. Today, in addition to the Hamilton mill, Champion owns a plant at Canton, N.C., and one at Houston, Texas, and is the largest manufacturer of white paper in the United States. The Aetna Paper Company, at Dayton, was founded in 1897. This mill specializes in the manufacture of rag papers and is a large supplier of this grade for the United States Government. The Wrenn Paper Company, founded in 1858 at Middletown, is one of the largest and best known manufacturers of blotting paper.

Raw Materials

Rags and wood pulp are the chief ingredients of paper. Rags are used in the better grades such as bond, writing, ledger, cover, blotting, and onion skin. Fifty years or more have passed since the paper mills relied on the local supply of this raw material. People went into the business of collecting, supplying, and partially processing rags. Nathan Leshner came to Hamilton about 1910 and built up a national business supplying rags under the name of the Leshner Paper Stock Company. He also had a warehouse in Holyoke, Massachusetts. His health failed, and the Philip Carey Manufacturing Company in Lockland, which was one of his principal customers, using the coarser grades of roofing, bought the business and owns it today.

When the mills involved processed their own rags, the cotton wearing countries such as Egypt, India, and China were a great source of cheap raw material, but their product was exceedingly dirty and the fibre weak from long usage. The best rag papers today are made from new material, of which the shirt manufacturers around Troy, New York, and shoe manufacturers in Boston, St. Louis, and elsewhere are the principal source. Some mills in the Valley today purchase rags already processed from the Cheney Paper and Pulp Company at Franklin. However, one large user manufactures his own rag pulp.

In the last twenty-five years the use of rags in paper manufacturing in the Valley has declined somewhat as more and more wood pulp, particularly sulphite, has been used. Improvement in the manufacture of strong, bright, wood pulps has made rags less essential for the fine grades, such as bonds and ledgers. An interesting development in the manufacture of rag papers in the last few years is the use of raw cotton as a substitute for rag pulp. The United States Government has been instrumental in urging the use of cotton.

Wood pulp is used in the cheaper grades of paper, either exclusively or to lower the price of rag grades. No wood pulp is manufactured in the Valley, although Champion supplies its Hamilton needs from a company owned plant in Canton, North Carolina. Most of the mills buy their wood pulp, which before World War II frequently was imported from foreign countries.

Many of the chemicals used in making paper come from the large chemical companies in Louisiana. Colors come from eastern manufacturers; and clay from the eastern part of the United States, also the west coast. Champion owns its own clay mill at Sandersville, Georgia, but even so has found it necessary to secure raw materials from five thousand different sources located all over the world. However, a large percentage of its materials comes from the United States. Casein, used for making coating adhere to book paper and boards, is a by-product of milk and comes from Argentina and the west coast of the United States. Before World War II, casein came from Australia, New Zealand, and France, but today in the United States insufficient quantities are being manufactured synthetically from soybeans.

Starches commonly used by the paper industry are from the base corn-starch. The majority of these are processed in the corn belt in the area around Keokuk, Iowa, and Decatur, Illinois. Alum comes from many parts of the United States, depending on manufacturing plant locations which range from the east coast to the far west. The base of this is bauxite (aluminum ore) and sulphuric acid. Rosin comes from the eastern part of the southern states, principally Florida to Louisiana, where the long-leaf pine abounds.

Labor

Most of the workers in the paper mills are skilled or semi-skilled, and are mostly native born Americans. The percentage of male to female workers is about 75 per cent to 25 per cent. Female labor is used for sorters, counters, and sheet cutters. Many tasks are performed better by women than men as women have the requisites, keenness of eye and dexterity of fingers, to sort and count paper. The paper industry in the Miami Valley has had few labor disputes because workers in the paper mills have, in general, been well satisfied. Working conditions are equal to or superior to those in other industries and the wages paid compare favorably with other industries. There is, however, a high ratio of salaries paid to total labor costs. This is due to the high proportion of technically trained and skilled workers required in the operation of a modern day paper mill.

Investment

The manufacture of paper is a business which requires millions of dollars in investment. A small mill, The Harding-Jones Company at Excello, specializing in private brand high grade rag papers, has an investment in one machine of $500,000. The manufacture of paper today is by no means the place for the small business man with a few thousand dollars of capital. Furthermore, it is a hazardous business. In the United States Statistics of Income for 1935 (returns filed December 31, 1936) only 57 per cent of the active mills in the United States had any net income. Mills in the Miami Valley have, however, enjoyed their share of prosperity.

Number of Mills

The total number of paper and paperboard mills in the United States is 638. The state of New York leads with 110 mills. Massachusetts comes second with 71 mills; Michigan, third with 49; Pennsylvania, fourth with 47; Ohio, fifth with 45; Wisconsin, sixth with 44; New Jersey, seventh with 35. Connecticut has 27 mills; Maine, 23; New Hampshire, 22; and Indiana, 16. Most of the paper mills are east of the Mississippi River. In the Miami Valley there are nineteen mills manufacturing fine, coarse, and specialty papers. This does not count roofing mills or converters that use manufactured paper in producing envelopes, corrugated boxes, cartons, cement bags, and other products.

The American Envelope Company at West Carrollton, with a capacity of 7,000,000 envelopes per day, manufactures about six per cent of the envelopes that are made in the United States today. The Dayton Envelope Company also manufactures a considerable number of envelopes. Crystal Tissue Mills at Excello, one of the largest tissue paper manufacturers in the United States, with plant investment of slightly less than $1,000,000, shipped 11,649 tons in 1940.

Localization of the Paper Industry

The comparative localization of the paper industry in the United States may be seen in the following table. The data show that ten states, with Ohio ranking sixth, account for 73 per cent of the total production for the whole country.

By virtue of being a prominent center for the paper industry, the Miami Valley has attracted companies which manufacture papermaking equipment. Wherever paper and pulp are made, there will be found paper-making machines of Black-Clawson Company of Hamilton. Paper Mill felts, used on paper-making

Over 500 Members Now in the Uniformed Services

THE JANUARY ISSUE contained the names of 334 members of Delta Sigma Pi in the uniformed services of our Country. The publication of this list resulted in our receiving much favorable comment throughout the fraternity, not only from our membership at large, but particularly from the members in the uniformed services. The Central Office of Delta Sigma Pi is now maintaining an up-to-date file of all Delta Sigma Pi "with the colors." This list is kept current at all times and in these days of rapid transfers we fraternally solicit your help in keeping this file as accurate as possible. We realize that at certain times our members in service are unable to give us their new addresses until they reach their destination, for they do not know where they are being transferred. But as soon as they do reach their new location if they will drop us a note we will change their address on our master records, from which we prepare the Directory information which will appear in each issue of THE DELTASIG for the duration.

If any members in service prefer that we use their home addresses so that their mail will be forwarded to them promptly by their parents, this is satisfactory. Or, we will use their service addresses as they prefer. The fraternity contemplates establishing several special services for our members in the armed forces and these will be explained from time to time in the columns of our magazine. All members in service are urged to keep in touch with the Central Office at all times so that they will receive the greatest possible benefit. Special bulletins will be mailed to our members in service; directories will be published from time to time. Alumni committees are being established in various cities near camps to provide for the entertainment of members in service on furlough, and located too far from their home town to be able to travel there while on short furloughs.

We publish herewith our current Directory of members in the armed forces, a total of 528 members as against 334 published in the last issue. This list will increase substantially with each month as we have hundreds of additional members in service, information for which has not yet been reported to us. Elsewhere in this issue are published excerpts from a number of the letters we have received from these members and we cordially invite correspondence with every member in service, regardless of where situated.

ΔΣΤ LETTERS

March 20, 1942

Dear Brother Wright:
Very much appreciated your letter of March 10. Takes me back to the week in 1921 when you installed Nu Chapter at Ohio State and I had the honor of being a charter member. Much water has since passed beneath the bridges, and I am now a Lieutenant Colonel Field Artillery, Operations Officer, Headquarters, 37th Division Artillery. Looks like we might get the chance pretty soon to see how much we have really learned during the last year and a half of training. Here's hoping, for we can't win a war sitting around here. Would appreciate any bulletins.

HOWARD F. HAINES, Ohio State
Lt. Col., Div. Artillery, A.P.O. 37
Postmaster, N.Y.

March 23, 1942

Dear Brother Wright:
Just received your letter and I would certainly appreciate a copy of the January issue of THE DELTASIG. I have been here only a short time and know of no other Deltasigs in my outfit, but if we find any I'll sure let you know. We boys in the service sure appreciate your efforts in helping make our stay an enjoyable one. The Central Office is doing a fine job.

Brothers:
As per Brother Wright's letter would be pleased to receive a copy of the January issue containing list of brothers in the service, and any further lists which may be issued.

March 25, 1942

Dear Gig:
It was swell to get your letter and I certainly would like to have the January DELTASIG and the list of brothers in service. It will be most interesting to find out where they are and there is no telling where I will meet up with them. I miss my association with Deltasigs and the Deltasig Lodge in Atlanta probably more than anything else.

March 21, 1942

Dear Brother Wright:
Was certainly glad to hear that the fraternity is endeavoring to keep in touch with all the boys in the service. I would appreciate a copy of the January DELTASIG.

January 17, 1942

Dear Gig:
Greetings, and all the best for the New Year to you and John McKewen. As you know I was called to active duty in April and assigned as Public Relations Officer of the Fifth Naval District with headquarters in Norfolk, Virginia. I represented the American Navy when Lord Louis Mountbatten took over command of H.M.S. Illustrious in the Norfolk Navy Yard in August and I also handled the Norfolk visit of the Duke of Kent.

In October I was ordered as Special Naval Observer to the American Embassy in London and left New York aboard the Pan American Atlantic Clipper on October 23, arriving in Lisbon, Portugal on October 25 and in London on October 30. And what a grand tour of duty this is. Will tell you all about it one day. All the best to you Gig, all the way.

Dear Brother Wright:
Prior to enlistment I had completed my residence work for my Ph.D. degree in economics and finance at the University of Texas. I enlisted for active duty in the Naval Reserve on January 19 and am now Chief Petty Officer, Eighth Naval Reserve District Headquarters, New Orleans, Louisiana.

March 22, 1942

Dear Brother Wright:
I received your letter of March 10 some days ago, but I have not been able to answer sooner. I received a copy of the January issue of THE DELTASIG and was certainly pleased to have the names of so many members in service. My address has since been changed from that given in the January issue and I would appreciate being included in any news listings. I enjoy THE DELTASIG and other bulletins very much.

HERBERT B. WHITBECK, Newark
Corp., c/o Agent Finance Office
Bradley Field
Windsor Locks, Conn.

Dear Brother Wright:
Yours will be a hard job to compile a list of Deltasigs now in the armed forces but nothing will be appreciated more! The very day I received the January issue of THE DELTASIG I looked up a brother who was stationed in Barracks at Camp Lee, Virginia. For two months he was not over 100 yards from me, but I did not know it! Yes sir! He was Melvin M. Sauerhammer of Johns Hopkins (Chi Chapter) and he was so cordial when I looked him up that I have started on a Deltasig hunt. Never having been away from my home chapter until I entered the army I had no opportunity to meet members of other chapters. This is a new experience to me but surely it's the spirit of Deltasigs the world over.

Wherever I go I am going to look around me for more brothers. They're here, if you can find them. And with the help of a list it should be easy. I am now at Westover Field, Massachusetts, and even "way up here" I run across several brothers. I am convinced now that it was an important day in my life when I became a member of the best fraternity, anywhere, Delta Sigma Pi!

CHARLES M. ENGLISH, Georgia-Kappa
Private, Med. Dept., Basic Training T-26

March 21, 1942

Dear Gig:
Received your letter of the 10th and am enclosing the data requested. It is really a fine piece of work you are doing along this line and I am confident that all the members in service appreciate it. I would certainly like to have a copy of the January DELTASIG. I realize now more than ever before the necessity and pleasure of keeping up old contacts and finding out what your friends are doing.

As to myself, I am attending the Infantry Officer Candidate School here at Fort Benning. Have been here for six weeks, and if the course is successfully completed, will graduate as a 2nd Lt. Infantry at the end of twelve weeks.

Dear Brothers:
Enclosed find check to cover alumni dues. This is also to inform you that I am now in the U. S. Army, having been inducted as a 2nd Lt. on February 3, 1941, and assigned to duty with Co. C, 116th Infantry at Fort George G. Meade, Md. This unit participated in the recent First Army Maneuvers in North and South Carolina, and saw plenty of action as part of the 29th Infantry Division. We returned from maneuvers just after war was declared and are standing by to do our duty for the defense of the United States.

February 8, 1942

Dear Brother Wright:
I wish to advise your office that in about six weeks I expect to be transferred to the Naval Air Station at Corpus Christi, Texas. Several other Deltasigs are stationed here at the Dallas Aviation Base. The residence of my parents is 5230 Scott St., Houston, Texas, to which mail may be sent.

Killed in Service

JOHN S. STEVENSON, Cincinnati, has given his life for his country. Inducted into the United States Army at Fort Thomas, Kentucky, early in December, Brother Stevenson was killed instantly on January 16, 1942 when the passenger train carrying soldiers from Fort Thomas to a Texas camp piled into a freight train near Perla, Arkansas. Brother Stevenson was very active at the University of Cincinnati. He won several prizes for high scholarship, was formerly managing editor of the News Record, student newspaper, and he was also a member of the Student Council. At the time of his entering military service Brother Stevenson was studying for his C.P.A. degree and was employed as an accountant at the Chevrolet plant in Norwood, Ohio.

Brother Stevenson's passing is a great loss to the fraternity. He had served as Scribe of our Cincinnati chapter and will always be remembered as the tall, handsome, helpful fellow who made only friends and who had the brotherly respect of every man in the organization.—WILBUR CROSS

He became associated with the National Carbon Company in Long Island City, N.Y., and in 1927 he was appointed Manager of Industrial Relations in the company's Clarksburg, West Virginia plant, later serving in its Fostoria, Ohio plant. He became Assistant to the Manager of Industrial Relation with Union Carbide in 1930, and his activities since then have included the company's personnel selection and placement, accident prevention work, employee education and training, recreational and athletic employee programs. He has also participated in the development and administration of the various corporation benefit plans. ## Very Reverend Edward D. O'Connell Dies

THE VERY REV. DR. EDWARD D. O'CONNELL, New York, rector of Mount St. Mary's Seminary, Emmitsburg, Maryland, since September, died in St. Joseph's Hospital, Baltimore, February 8 after a month's illness. He was 47 years of age.

Brother O'Connell was initiated into Delta Sigma Pi at Alpha Chapter while attending New York University, from which he graduated in 1925. After several years in business he entered Mount St. Mary's Seminary for the study of philosophy. He then entered Almo Collegio Capranica, Rome, Italy, to complete his studies. He received his doctorate in philosophy at the Academy of St. Thomas and his licentiate in theology from the Gregorian University. He was ordained in Rome on July 15, 1928.

Since his return to this country he has served churches in Utica, New York, and Rome, New York, and he assumed his duties at Mount St. Mary's on September 1 last.

Guy Swanson Dies

MARION GUY SWANSON, Georgia-Kappa, passed away December 12, 1941 in a hospital in Macon, Georgia. His death was a distinct shock to his many fraternity brothers. He was initiated into Kappa Chapter on November 4, 1928 and served the chapter in many capacities until his graduation in 1932. He won the Alpha Kappa Psi medallion for having the highest scholastic average in the junior class and he was elected president of his senior class. He was district manager of Remington Rand, Inc.

In 1932 Brother Swanson was told by his doctor that he had only five years more to live. He told only his roommate but swore him to secrecy. To those who lived, studied, and worked with him he was always a friendly, honest, ethical member who could always be depended upon to perform well any assignment given him. None of the fraternity members had any idea that Brother Swanson had a rendezvous with death. He wouldn't have had his friends know it, because a strong spirit doesn't want sympathy or pity. A year or so ago Brother Swanson saw his old roommate and, in his usual cheerful manner, said that his time had not yet come, and that he was making all the progress he could until the Lord Almighty saw fit to stop his activity in this life. He had in those seven or eight years risen to be district manager of his company, and had married. He was still a loyal and interested Deltasig and on numerous occasions had traveled from Macon to Atlanta to visit the Kappa Chapter Lodge and to fraternize with his brothers. On December 12 Guy Swanson died. We imagine his greatest regret was that he had done so little in the few years he had left on this earth. We feel he accomplished much. Surely his courage in the face of Death is an example to all of us.

CHICAGO

AS WE PREDICTED in our last letter, the January meeting of the Chicago Alumni Club at the Morrison Hotel was indeed something to look forward to. The principal speaker was Dean William Clark of DePaul University Law School who gave one of the best talks that we have heard so far this year. After the speaker summed up the war and the economic situations, the meeting was turned over to an open forum discussion with Brother Clark discussing questions as the brothers brought them up. The February meeting was held as usual at the Morrison Hotel, the principal speaker being Edmund H. Eitel, who is Assistant District Manager of the Chicago Office of the O.P.M. Mr. Eitel spoke interestingly on the subject of priorities—a situation which is indeed close to all of us.

The attendance at the March meeting was higher than the two previous meetings, possibly because of it being St. Patrick's Day when some free refreshments were in order. Our principal speaker for this meeting was Charles H. Garland of WBBM Radio Station, who spoke on "Radio's Vital Role in the War." Both the prepared talk and the informal discussion, which followed, were interesting and informative.

Departing from the usual plan for our monthly dinner gathering, the April meeting will be held on Tuesday, April 21 at the Beta Chapter House, 42 Cedar Street. It is planned to have the speaker shortly after eight o'clock to be followed with some refreshments and cards.

President Bob Study announces that plans are underway for a house party to be held at 42 Cedar Street on Saturday, May 9. As the party is going to be held in a Mexican atmosphere, Brother Bob Johnson is showing some films on Mexico which are, from all reports, very interesting besides being authentic. So if we are not in the Army by that time, we should all be looking forward to this party.—DON GRAHAM

BUFFALO

BUFFALO, KEY CITY of the Niagara Frontier, is considered the third most important defense area in the nation. We are proud of the important part we are playing in producing defense materials. Ranking second as an inland port and also second in size as a railroad center, Buffalo is well equipped to distribute large quantities of finished and raw materials throughout the nation. Many Buffalo plants work 24 hours a day. Almost every type of industry can be found here. Several large steel mills light the skies at night in the eastern part of the city while scattered in several sections of the city can be found the aircraft industry. Bell's mighty "Aircobra" and Curtis "P-40" fighter planes are being turned out 24 hours a day. Buffalonians take a certain pride and have a feeling of security as they watch these guardians of democracy streak across the sky as they are tested. Brother Joseph P. Healey is Assistant Treasurer of the Curtiss-Wright Airplane Corporation.

Another key industry is grain distributing, Buffalo being the leading flour city in the world. In this industry we find Grand Council Member E. L. Schujahn occupying the important position of Vice-President of the Washburn-Crosby Co., manufacturers of Wheaties and many other food products. Ward Flach is a chemist for Eastern States Milling Co., distributors of feeds.

Various chemical plants are busily engaged in turning out various necessary solvents. The Arner Co., industrial chemists, has as its Treasurer Charles Atkinson; associated with him is William Walbridge. In the steel industry we find Carl Guenther holding an executive position with Brace, Mueller, Huntley Corporation, distributors of various kinds of sheet steel.

Buffalo's all-out production effort has caused the influx of many people to this area to fill the many jobs in the various factories. This has caused a tremendous shortage in housing. To take care of some of these needs we find G. Lawrence Mitchell leading his own building company and specializing in low and medium priced dwellings. Also in the building field is Leland Eshleman who is a partner with his father of the Esco Lumber Co.

Ronald Daniels is auditor for the Federal Portland Cement Co., while Norwood Hamersmith is a salesman contacting Government projects for the Lehigh Portland Cement Co. Local alumni club President Irving Manzel is a member of the firm of Manzel Bros., manufacturers of heavy machinery.

In the transportation field, which is quite an important factor these days, we find E. Fred Kirk, Vice-President of the Century Carloading Co., who maintains the reputation of having the fastest package freight service from New York to Buffalo. George Richardson is auditor of the Great Lakes Transit Co. and will soon be quite busy when the lake boats start their service for the season.

As we survey the financial field which is today just as important as always in business, we note that Matthew Bebenek is an Assistant Manager of the big Liberty Bank.

On February 15 Frederick A. Wagner's firm Wagner, Phillips & Wilson merged their accounting practice with Percival G. Bixby & Co. Brother Wagner was recently elected Commodore of the Buffalo Canoe Club.

Our brothers who are in the educational field are also playing important parts in the nation's defense program. Earl McGrath is Dean of Administration of the University of Buffalo and is a member of a national committee in charge of accepting undergraduate students in the Naval Reserve under classes V-5 and V-7 which permits them to finish their college courses but take naval training during the summer and when they graduate from college they get a rating as an Ensign in the navy. Norman Burton is head of the accounting department of the University of Buffalo and is in Washington as a Tax Consultant to the Government.

Carl Petro, John K. Wilson, and Henry Norton are all members of the U. S. Army. We are sure that there are more of our local Deltasigs in service at this time but these are all that we have a record of.

Many local brothers are taking active parts in the various branches of the Local Civilian Defense Program. We urge all Buffalo area Deltasigs to notify our secretary of their activities especially those that are now in the service or about to be called.—C. EDWARD WESLEY

TWIN CITIES

SATURDAY, MARCH 7, Alpha Epsilon celebrated its eighteenth anniversary with a banquet at the Covered Wagon in Minneapolis. The evening was highlighted with a presentation of a Life Membership by Rudie Janzen on behalf of the Alumni Club to Carl Meldahl, a charter member of the chapter, for his faithful and never ending service to the fraternity. Incidentally, Carl saw active service as a pilot in the last World War. Waldo Hardell served capably as toastmaster. Roy Miller spoke on behalf of the founders while Kuno Janzen introduced the out of town guests. Head Master Art Gustafson brought a few words from the active chapter. Seventy-seven members turned out for the birthday party.

CARL J. MELDAHL (right) Receiving Life Membership from Rudie Janzen in behalf of Twin Cities alumni, March 7, 1942, in recognition of his long service to Delta Sigma Pi

After the banquet a program was prepared for each brother in the service, and on the back of each all present knowing the respective brother sent him a word of greeting.

Carl Meldahl last fall organized a bowling league composed of members and their wives. Under his direction the league has grown until now about 20 turn out every week. The group bowls very Thursday evening at the new alleys on 54th and Lyndale. Everyone has a good time and Carl's only hope is that more Twin City members will join.

The Twin Cities Club extends to all Deltasigs visiting here an invitation to attend their Thursday luncheons at the Covered Wagon.—BERNARD BLACK

PHILADELPHIA

WITH THE EXIGENCIES of national defense increasing as they are, it is to be expected that repercussions will be felt in alumni clubs throughout the nation. Here in Philadelphia our ranks were further lessened by the departures of Fred Oeschger, George Spotts, Ken Voorhies and Howard Ayers for service in the armed forces. At our February meeting following a buffet dinner, we were accorded the good fortune of hearing J. Russell Doubman, Professor of Marketing, Wharton School, University of Pennsylvania. Brother Doubman, who is now serving as chairman for the Philadelphia Committee of Civilian Morale, gave us a very interesting talk on the various unfair trade practices now prevalent as a result of the national emergency. It was at this same meeting that Brother George Beck gave us a few insights on the Treasury Department's Defense Bond drive.

On Tuesday, March 10, Major George J. Stadler, U.S.A. Signal Corps was the speaker at an informal professional activity at the Beta Nu Chapter house. Although Brother

Stadler's talk was given at an affair sponsored by the actives of Beta Nu, a number of alumni club members were present. This meeting along with the regular alumni meeting on the following Thursday, March 12, were integral parts of Deltasig Week, an innovation by a combined committee of actives and alumni that would appear to have found a solution to Beta Nu's membership problem. A more detailed discussion of the week's activities may be found in the active chapter article in this issue of THE DELTASIG.

At that meeting on March 12, a representative of the Philadelphia Council of Civilian Defense spoke to us on the organization and scope of activities of that office. After an introductory talk on the background of national defense, a lively discussion ensued on more specific phases of the subject.

Dick Boyajian was elected to serve as secretary for the alumni club for the balance of the term of Ken Voorhies who entered the service on March 20. Plans were also made for the alumni's annual Monte Carlo Party to be held next month at the Beta Nu chapter house.

BOOKS BY DELTASIGS

COMMERCIAL CREDIT AND COLLECTION PRACTICE, by WATROUS H. IRONS, Texas, published by The Ronald Press Company, 606 pp., $4.50. Brother Irons is associate professor of banking and finance of the School of Business Administration of the University of Texas.

Since February 1942 this text has been available for the student or business man to help in his understanding of why he must make an accurate evaluation of credit risks and what information is available for that purpose. The main objective of the book is to give the reader an understanding of how to analyze available credit data so as to make those decisions essential to the efficient operation of a credit department.

COMMERCIAL AIR TRANSPORTATION, by DR. JOHN H. FREDERICK, Texas, published by Richard D. Irwin, Inc., $4. Brother Frederick is professor of transportation and industry of the School of Business Administration of The University of Texas and is vice-president in charge of the Traffic and Transportation Bureau of the Austin Chamber of Commerce. Besides being a national director of the American Marketing Association, he is a member of the Editorial Board of the Journal of the American Marketing Association.

This sixth book of Brother Frederick is being widely accepted as a textbook in air transportation, a new course being offered by the nation's colleges. The purpose of this book is to bring to the public, the people in the industry, and the students and teachers of transportation, a picture of the history and development of commercial air transportation in the United States, the growth and extent of Federal regulation concerning it, and the problems and services of airlines.

These selected topics indicate the wide scope of this book: airport development, adequacy of feeder airlines, airline equipment, airline operation, airline financing, selling and promotion of air travel, air express development, managerial problems of air cargo transportation, air mail rates under the C.A.A.

The author carefully analyzes and interprets the extensively gathered material in the light of the present and future trends in this field.

AUDIT PRACTICE CASE, by HARVEY G. MEYER, Wisconsin, published by Prentice-Hall,

Inc., $3.75. Brother Meyer is professor of accounting and chairman of the department of accounting of the University of Tennessee. The AUDIT PRACTICE CASE is one of the units of the famous Prentice-Hall Co-ordinated Accounting Series, edited by Harry A. Finney also a member of Delta Sigma Pi.

This book has been called the nearest approach to an actual audit possible without making an audit for compensation. The student is supplied with all the books, forms, and papers necessary to carry on the complete audit. In addition, he has the audit work papers and auditor's report for the previous year to familiarize him with the procedures. This is the only case that makes available this helpful material to guide the student.

Suggested procedures are worked into the material so as to permit the student to carry on the audit with a large degree of independence, thus lightening the task of the instructor.

The teacher is further assisted by the suggested schedule of assignments, dividing the case into divisions to cover the period of fourteen weeks. In addition, he receives the specially prepared Master Practice Set for his own use, when he adopts five or more copies of the Case in his class.

STORE SALESMANSHIP, by NORRIS A. BRISCO, Iowa, and Grace Griffith, and O. Preston Robinson, published by Prentice-Hall, Inc., 458 pp. The authors of this book were among the pioneers in providing practical guidance in the training, supervising, and rewarding of retail sales people. In 1932 they published Store Salesmanship, a book which has been widely used both in stores and in high schools. Now, after nine more years of rich experience, they have issued a new revised edition that is even better than the first. They have brought all the original chapters up to date. In addition, they have added four new chapters for which there is a need. The book is so clear and complete that it serves admirably as a text in stores and schools.

Brother Brisco is Dean of the School of Retail Selling of New York University.

Many other members have taken out Life Memberships on the partial payment plan, but their numbers are not assigned or their names published in this listing until their final payments are made.

You are fraternally invited to become a Life Member of Delta Sigma Pi. There are three plans of Life Membership purchase. Plan A, $35 cash, or $5 per month for seven months. Plan B, $37.50, payable $12.50 cash, and two additional installments of $12.50 each, one year apart. Plan C, $40, payable $5 cash, and $1 per month for 35 months. Any alumni dues already paid for the current year will be credited toward Life Membership payments. All receipts from the sale of Life Memberships are placed in the National Endowment Fund of the fraternity and only the income derived from that Fund is available for fraternity operating expenses. It is hoped that many additional alumni will join this ever-growing list of Life Loyal Deltasigs.

Life Memberships make ideal presentation gifts, particularly on birthdays, anniversaries, at Christmas, and for other special occasions. If requested, the fraternity is glad to have such Life Memberships dated to coincide with the actual date of presentation. Undergraduate members can secure Life Memberships, but since Life Memberships pay alumni dues for life these do not remove any undergraduate dues liability of the member during his undergraduate days.

MIAMI

ALPHA UPSILON CHAPTER has been relaxing its program a little bit since about a week after Christmas vacation because of semester final examinations which were the last ten days of January and for which all the members started to study in advance. However, on Wednesday, January 7, before our study program began, we held a very interesting professional meeting with Mr. Vernon Fryburger, an instructor of marketing and a member of Alpha Upsilon Chapter, in his undergraduate days, addressing the chapter on the university's placement bureau and afterwards leading a general discussion on the topic. Some of the points covered were: would the placement service help students in finding a job after they got out of the army, what were the various companies that annually visit Miami's campus in search of employees, what qualifications did the representatives of the companies look for in picking men, and what to do if you are a senior, to obtain an interview? Thomas Turney and John Ehrich were in charge of the program.

A new staff has been appointed to put out the Deltasig Chatter for this semester. Donald Lanning is the editor and Chalmers Monteith, Charles Hess, James Belleman, and Paul Magel are assistants. An issue is expected to be forthcoming in the near future. As the chapter endeavors to take two field trips each year, Wayne Albers was appointed by the Head Master, Clifford Erickson, to look into the possibilities for one this semester. Although many of the industries are turning to war production and consequently are doing away with planned trips through their plants, it is hoped that one can be found in the near vicinity that will allow us to visit it. Thomas Turney and Robert Grey have been added to the committee in charge of the Chapter Efficiency Contest.

Two of our members have left school in the last month to help in Uncle Sam's all out program for victory. Gene Baughman had to leave so that he could take further courses in C.P.T. with the ultimate aim of becoming an instructor in the Army Air Corps by next summer. Allen Nichols having already been in the Army Reserve because of having attended C.M.T.C. camps for the past few summers went into the regular Army on January 6.—FRANK SHALER

ALABAMA

THE FIRST EVENT OF MAJOR importance on the Alpha Sigma semester calendar was our semi-annual rush smoker. The event was a great success with the largest attendance we have had in quite a while. The program consisted of a vocal trio, an accordionist, talks by Head Master Henry A. Leslie and Province Officer Leroy J. Nations, and the motion pictures of the 1941 Alabama-Tennessee game in technicolor. These films were very excellent and the highlight of the entire affair. The fruits of our smoker were brought to light on Commerce Day when we tapped twelve men for membership in Delta Sigma Pi. These men will be formally pledged in a few days. Commerce Day brought us other honors in addition to those accorded the new neophytes. Three of our brothers were tapped for Beta Gamma Sigma, Bob Haig, Harold Erwin, and Newell Embley. It gives the chapter a great deal of pride to number outstanding men like these among our brothers.

The Deltasigs at Alabama have also proven that brains and brawn can come together. Two of our members George Gammon and Morton Kimball, played for the Tide in the New Year's Cotton Bowl Classic. In addition to these boys' exploits on the gridiron they are also among the brighter scholastic lights in the School of Commerce. Brother Gammon was also honored by being tapped by Omicron Delta Kappa, national leadership honorary. Omicron Delta Kappa is really a great honor on this campus and it takes truly a "big man on the campus" to make it.—EDWIN EUDY, JR.

WISCONSIN

PSI CHAPTER IS STARTING this semester with a bang. We are having Professor Fox of the University of Wisconsin talk to us at a meeting honoring the founding of our chapter. In addition to this starting point in our professional activities, we are going to try and have a meeting every week which will be attended by either some authority from the University or some business man from Madison. The emphasis of our professional meetings will be on the war and how it is effecting us as students of Commerce. We also hope to make several trips to industrial plants this coming semester.

There is no lag in our social program either. On February 13, we had a sleigh ride party. The following week-end we had a party for our pledge class prior to their initiation in the early part of March. Of course, we are looking forward to our annual Bowery Party and Spring Formal.

At the last chapter meeting it was decided to hold more smokers this coming semester and see if we could not have a larger pledge class than we had last semester. Brother Boedeker and Brother Nelson with the help of all the brothers have been making a list of all the good rushing points. The pledges are making a copy for each brother so he may know and be able to stress the main rushing points when rushing a prospective pledge.

We of Psi Chapter feel fortunate in that we lost no men due to the draft this last semester. Brother Du Bois is the only brother lost and that was through graduation. However, Brother Richert has been admitted into V-7 of the Navy and Brother Baertschy is attempting to enter V-5. Neither of these men will leave before June and the prospect of other brothers leaving before June is slight. As our records show the following brothers of Psi Chapter are serving in the armed forces of our country: Charles Teggatz, Richard Helz, Robert Henkel, Don Burrowbridge, Gene Dettlaff, Woodrow Tupper, Robert Sandeen, Fred Braun, Mac Hemmings, and Robert Kailing. Psi Chapter is proud of you men, "Keep 'em Flying."

In the elections held recently the following men were given the reins of this chapter: Herb Boedeker, Head Master; Ralph Zaun, Senior Warden; Hal Henrich, Junior Warden; Earl Nelson, Scribe; and Richard Tusler was appointed editor of the Psi News. With the installation of these new officers and with our different programs under way it looks like a big semester for Psi Chapter.—WALT LIVIE

MINNESOTA

ALPHA EPSILON CHAPTER celebrated its 18th Birthday March 7, 1942 with a delicious steak dinner at the Covered Wagon in Minneapolis. Some presentations were made after dinner and William Johnson received the award for having attained the highest scholastic average in the graduating class. Another presentation was a Life Membership in Delta Sigma Pi, given to Carl Meldahl for his good work in organizing and nourishing Delta Sigma Pi on the Minnesota campus.

The election of chapter officers for the winter-spring term was held Monday, January 19. After a friendly session of debate the following brothers were elected: Arthur Gustafson, Head Master; Thomas Hurley, Senior Warden; Myles Gentzkow, Junior Warden; Bud Halvorson, Chancellor; Herb Lerud, Treasurer; and Paul Kepple, Scribe. With these ambitious men at the wheel the Alpha Epsilon Chapter cannot fail to go onward and upward as always.

In our intramural sports program this winter the chapter has been kept busy. The bowling team has covered itself with glory by winning every set of games and at present is in the finals of the professional fraternity bowling tournament. In the intramural basketball tournament this quarter we finished in second place by defeating our arch rivals Alpha Kappa Psi in a thrilling game. Our social program here at Alpha Epsilon Chapter has definitely not been lacking with formals, house parties, social meetings, date luncheons, and smokers. The two big social affairs of the past were the Interprofessional Ball and the famed Deltasig Palm Beach party; also the big social event of the near future is the Spring Formal which is being looked forward to with great anticipation by both actives and alumni.

With the present great all out war effort taking many of the active members a new and extensive rushing campaign has begun with an outlook toward great success in the near future. The chapter is working very hard to obtain 100,000 points in the Chapter Efficiency Contest again this year, particularly because unless the world situation changes for the worse the Grand Chapter Congress will meet in Minneapolis next September.—KENNETH R. WAHLBERG

NORTHWESTERN—Zeta

ZETA'S NEW CHAPTER OFFICERS are turning to with great zeal and effort with the result that the appearance of the house has been altered vastly toward the better side of the picture. Head Master Ralph Flora has led and goaded the brothers into redecorating the basement, a task that has been avoided for the past several semesters. Charles Paynter, new Senior Warden, is rushing many fellows and it is expected that the pledge class will soon be greatly enlarged with the addition of the results of this program.

Smoker chairman John Lindgren and social chairman Harold Niemi, are both working towards a full program in their particular divisions for the coming semester. This promises to be a most successful social semester due to the confining of most university activities to the immediate campus and we of Delta Sigma Pi are looking forward to using our new and enlarged facilities for the promotion of a better season.

The second week-end of March saw the brothers putting on a highly timely "Blackout Party" which was a huge success from all angles. The atmosphere was complete with air raids and air raid patrols on the alert, and there was even a bomb shelter in the basement of the house complete with music, games and refreshments. The success was due in no small part to the efforts of the actives and ever-willing pledges who did much of the work on the entire set-up of atmosphere.

At a recent smoker, Dr. Bergan Evans, of the Northwestern University Department of English spoke at what was hailed as one of the finest smokers ever held in this house. Dr. Evans speaks with a brilliantly humorous lack of conventionality and guests and members from both the student body and the faculty of the School of Commerce were greatly impressed with the ability of the speaker to carry on a talk in such a pleasant manner. After the smoker was over, the brothers gathered around Dr. Evans and the discussion of the problems of the War were further taken up in an extended discussion.

Robert Pettit, one of the pledges, was recently elected president of the Northwestern Co-operative Bookstore which is undergoing reorganization at the present time. Pettit and Delmar Norton, treasurer of the junior class, are among the Deltasigs who are leaders in campus activities.

The athletic progress of the chapter is bidding fair to outdo the expectations which were earlier conceived. The bowling team keeps right on winning games and the basketball team has made a name for itself in intramural games. Although the baseball team has not as yet started practice, the outlook for the coming season is indeed a bright one and hopes are high for a very successful season.—GUY THOMPSON and CHARLES PAYNTER

DENVER

THE ALPHA NU CHAPTER GREETED 1942 with half of their spirit and determination directed toward licking the Japs, and the other half toward building the fraternity to the highest level in its history. We all bought Defense Bonds and Stamps, and now have regular days set aside for required purchase of stamps so we will not get out of the habit. We have just concluded our second initiation of this year and are looking forward to another initiation before this school year is over. We held our initiation banquet at the Blue Parrot Inn and had a glorious time. On Friday, March 13, we held a pledge dance at Walker's Barn. It was a western dance and everybody came in costume. The highlight of the evening was the hilarious, mock initiation, of the girls at the dance, into the Boots Without Spurs Club, a club of brothers and the girls they go with.

Our chapter has had a great honor bestowed upon it. The new assistant Dean of the University of Denver, School of Commerce, is one of our brothers. Professor Puckett has been elevated to this position to take the place of the Dean, who is now Regional Director of the O.P.M. Brother Puckett is head of the Educational Department at the school.

We have lost another brother to the United States Government in Washington. Professor Wiedemann has gone to head a Statistics Bureau of the War Department, for the duration of the War. We feel this loss keenly, as we did Douglas Miller, but are proud that they are important in our War efforts.

With the new actives and a great spirit among all of the brothers in the fraternity, we are going to push ahead in the next two months, to put our chapter on a sound basis so it will weather the emergency.—DAVID H. CROSS

DRAKE

IN 1927, ALPHA IOTA CHAPTER of Delta Sigma Pi, founded the Commerce Club at Drake University. The Club was organized to provide a means whereby students of commerce, men and women alike, at Drake could associate for the purpose of furthering their education outside the class room. Since 1927 it has been the policy of the Club to engage prominent businessmen to speak to the members. In addition, movies concerning commerce and industry have been provided and industrial tours have been arranged. The Commerce Club has been very successful in achieving its objectives under the continuous sponsorship of Alpha Iota. Last semester three Deltasigs were elected to executive offices in the Commerce Club. At a recent meeting of the Club Carroll Kinker was elected to the presidency for the coming year. Brother Kinker is also slated for an office in Alpha Iota.

Friday the thirteenth proved to be a lucky day for Alpha Iota. On this evening the Commerce Club sponsored their annual spring formal at the Student Union. Featured during the evening was a dance contest and the election of a king and queen to rule over the affair. Roland Bunge and his date won the former and Brother Kinker and his date were solemnly crowned King and Queen. Needless to say, Alpha Iota and Deltasig are gaining prominence on the Drake campus.

The "Alpha Iota News Letter" is ready for publication and will be in your hands by the time you read this. Let me take this opportunity to thank Professor Ervin I. Hays, Professor of Accounting, for his work in cutting the stencil for the letters and the shield for the first page of the news letter, and to thank Marvin Meyers for organizing the material and cutting the stencils. Head Master Ashbaugh collaborated with yours truly on the copy writing, but that was the easiest part of the news letter. We sincerely hope you like it.

Alpha Iota is planning an initiation in the near future coupled with the annual picnic at the Ledges State Park near Des Moines. Pledge Master Allan Anderson is hard at work and reports prospects are excellent for an increased active membership.

Alpha Iota is fortunate in not having lost any more brothers to Uncle Sam's armed forces. However, Brother Woolever and Brother Anderson, both alums of '41, are expecting to be called shortly. In the meantime, Woolever is employed by Billings and Company, Certified Public Accountants. Both men report that there is plenty of work to do and that good jobs are available with public accountants at this time due to the shortage of men because of the draft.—DONALD A. HUGHES

ALABAMA POLY

BETA LAMBDA CHAPTER is concerned now with several matters of minor import, but all our principal interests are centered around the changes being effected by the administration. Alabama Polytechnic Institute is adopting the quarter system in June of this year, and the consequent changes of organization of our chapter of Delta Sigma Pi must be dealt with. Other major problems brought upon us by changes in the program of the college are now at hand. These matters are the ones affected by Auburn's new grading system. Previously the grading plan has been the usual one of numbers for the quality of work done. Now, however, we are operating under a letter system of grading. Delta Sigma Pi on this campus has always adhered to a policy of requiring a certain numerical average grade for eligibility for election to membership. The men initiated at the first of this year were chosen from the records compiled by them last year when we operated under the numerical plan of marking.

What with these two major changes in the whole set-up of the school, Beta Lambda chapter must now revise its standards, meeting programs, times for initiations andappings, and method of selection of officers. Our chapter will vary in size each quarter under the new system, and the new officers will be in office for a different term. All of these matters are before us, and they will constitute the basis for most of the work of the chapter for the remainder of the year.

In changing from the future to the present tense in the discussion of Beta Lambda, it is a real pleasure to record that Beta Lambda members are again among the very best in scholarship in the entire School of Science and Literature, which includes the Department of Business Administration. Three boys and one girl were recently chosen for Phi Kappa Phi from the School of Science and Literature as a whole, and all three boys were members of Beta Lambda. It is a matter of particular interest that the three seniors so honored were the three ranking senior officers of the chapter: Sam Nettles, Head Master; L. Z. Thrasher, Senior Warden; and John Turner Hudson, Treasurer.

Another item of which the members of Beta Lambda are proud is the fact that at least ten of our members this year will receive commissions in the army upon being graduated in June. The chapter will miss these older members greatly, and their place will be difficult to fill; but, in keeping with the sentiment of the college as a whole, we are proud of the fact that our chapter is furnishing these men to be officers in our army.

Socially speaking, the activities of the chapter are continuing according to schedule. The annual Commerce Ball, which merely in the planning stage at the time of the last chapter newsletter to THE DELTASIG, has come and gone. We have twice held banquets in town for the members and faculty guests, and at the latest of these we heard Dean Roger Allen, of the School of Science and Literature, explain the functioning of the Department of Business Administration under the new quarter plan.

All in all, Beta Lambda is ready to go ahead with the revision and stream-lining that the college has called upon all organizations to effect. We are looking forward to continued growth and development under the new arrangements.—JOHN SCOTT, JR.

NORTH CAROLINA

THE UNIVERSITY OF NORTH CAROLINA has been chosen as one of the four colleges in the nation to be student pilot training centers in the Navy's vast aviation expansion program. The prospective navy pilots will be trained here before being sent for actual flight training. The three-month pre-flight training program is designed to harden prospective pilots and make them the "toughest seahawks in the world." If any of the other chapters have been joining the Navy Air Corps, tell them to look us up if they are sent here for pre-flight training, or let us know and we will look them up.

CLASS OF INITIATES AT OUR NORTH CAROLINA CHAPTER, March 1, 1942

Our winter quarter initiation was held on March 1, 1942, and fifteen new men were initiated. We are quite proud of our new Brothers, and know that we got quality as well as quantity this quarter. Our usual banquet was held in honor of the new brothers after the initiation. The new members are: Bruce Bales, Larry Berluti, Loyd Bost, Clinton Clark, Sam Cox, Jimmy Davis, David Fiske, Claude George, Nelson Jenette, Eppie Knight, Ed Minges, Charles Murray, Fred Oehler, Hugh Stroud, and George Withers.

Our Senior Warden, Brother Bursley, graduated this quarter, but he will be back with us next quarter in the graduate school. W. J. Smith is a candidate for the office of Speaker of the Student Legislature. Brother Schwenning, our former adviser, who is now working for the government, was through here the other day and paid us a visit.—WALTER LOVE

GEORGIA—Pi

REVIEWING THE EVENTS taking place in Pi Chapter for the school year, we find that on November 25, 1941 a Founders' Day Banquet was held at Memorial Hall, student recreation center. Jack Calhoun acted as toastmaster. The main event was a short talk by Dr. T. H. Whitehead, professor of chemistry, on "Chemistry In Modern Warfare." After the banquet we all gathered around Dr. Whitehead in a general "hell session" on various phases of chemistry and its part in our everyday life. We also find that on November 26, Delta Sigma Pi defeated our rivals on the campus, Alpha Kappa Psi, 20-0 in touch football. Many fans watched this annual event in touch football with great interest. On December 16, our formal pledging took place in the Deltasig Penthouse. Six boys were pledged at this time.

Winding up the fall quarter's calendar, we enjoyed professional speeches given by Professor J. F. Burke, instructor in accounting, and Professor R. T. Segrest, professor of economics, and acting Dean of the School of Business Administration.

Winter quarter opened with the initiation of two new members, Jack Parrish and John Ham. On January 27, we elected officers for the next semester which included: Lee Darby, Head Master; Thomas Walden, Senior Warden; John Bradley, Treasurer; and Ben Howell, Scribe. We extend our appreciation to the retiring officers and pledge our support to the new officers.

On February 24, a smoker and social was held at the Deltasig Penthouse. Mr. Weaver Bridges, prominent business man of this town gave us a short talk. Seven rushees were present, and all are might good prospects.

Ernest Freeman, newly elected chancellor of Pi Chapter has accepted a position in Savannah, Georgia. We all wish him lots of luck. Brother Walter Calhoun has been elected to fill his position.

Our next professional talk will be on April 6, by Dr. G. W. Sutton, Chairman of the Finance Division.

With the war and enlistments, we are going to be greatly hurt, but we are going out and putting out more effort to increase our membership. Watch our smoke.—JOHN HAM

OKLAHOMA

AT THE FINAL meeting of the first semester, members of Beta Epsilon Chapter bade farewell and extended their best wishes to those members leaving the chapter at the close of the semester. They were graduating seniors with the exception of one who left to enter the armed forces of the United States. Those joining the ranks of the alumni were: Dave Kimball, Delbert J. Ward, R. Gene Moss, Donald Groom, Virgil M. Stone and William Fagan. Ronald Mitchell left to join the ranks of the United States Naval Reserve. An election was held at this meeting to fill the offices vacated by these graduating members. The following officers were elected: Senior Warden, Joe Boucher; Chapter Scribe, James Thacker; Deltasig Correspondent, Vernon Upchurch; Senior Guide, Fred Hopkins.

On January 9, the members and their guests, the Business Girls Club, went to Oklahoma City upon the invitation of Mr. Lyal Barnhart to tour The First National Bank and Trust Company. Brother Barnhart, who is comptroller of the bank, was host for the evening and showed us the intricacies of a modern bank. This tour was followed by a buffet supper on the Roof Garden.

At the first smoker of the new semester, Beta Epsilon Chapter had as its speaker Mr. Dan Hogan, president of the City National Bank in Oklahoma City. Mr. Hogan is a pioneer in Oklahoma banking having been in the banking business for fifty-two years. In his talk he outlined the changes that have occurred during his banking experience. An informal discussion followed in which points of interest to members and guests present were brought up.

Informal notes—We extend our heartiest welcome to William Austin who has returned to school for the second semester. Brother Austin was forced to withdraw from school during the first semester to take charge of his father's business during his father's illness. . . . Hats off to Roderick Holiday for volunteering for service in the United States Marine Reserve. Brother Holiday will be called for active duty at the close of the present school year.—VERNON UPCHURCH

NEBRASKA

THINGS HAVE BEEN MOVING forward at Alpha Delta Chapter since last writing, despite the usual let down at the holidays and during the final examinations at the end of the first semester. The sports program, professional program and general fraternity work are now well under way for the second semester.

The chapter is entered in two of the intramural basketball leagues, and while one of them will not end on top, the other is in the lead at the present time. The outstanding players have been Ferguson, Morrison, Anderson, Spilker, Boyd and Irwin and Culwell. We are also entered in handball, table tennis, and bowling, and as soon as the weather permits, softball. In all of these sports we have fine material, and under the direction of Brother Stevenson, we should go far.

Our professional program is just as complete, under the direction of Brother Knicely. For the second semester we have scheduled talks on Nebraska power districts, opportunities in the insurance field, personnel work, and the accounting system in a local corporation. Gerald Fritzon is busy training the group for the Ivy Day sing in the spring, and is doing a fine job, his chief difficulty being the classification of Brother Anderson's voice.

We are proud to present Boyd MacDougall as our nominee for Best Dressed on Campus. Voting is coming off this week, and we are all hoping.

to be used as directed by those contributors themselves. We have no results to post as yet, but we feel certain that the result will be favorable. We have had many of the alums back this year. This group includes Brothers Hlava, Rector, Crockett, Schmode, Irvin, Jeffrey, McCartney, Dinsdale, Lucas, Loder, Clare and Cory. Brother McCartney was married on June 3 to Elizabeth Cross of Lincoln. They are now at Camp Ord, Calif.

We want to welcome to membership at this time four men of typical Delta Sigma Pi quality—Bruce Boyd, Walter Olson, Warren Jeffrey, and Richard Weekly. They were admitted to membership on March 1 and the following day, the new group of officers, headed by new prexy Spilker, were installed at a formal ceremony. Other officers are Robert Bjodstrup, Senior Warden; James Ferguson, Junior Warden; Jack Knicely, Scribe; Charles Backer, Treasurer; and E. Max Ebeling, Chancellor.

The highlight of the future outlook is our annual Spring Party to be held May 2. We always look forward to this treat, and this year it promises to be as big as ever, with an able social chairman, Walter Morrison, in charge.

And in closing, just a bit of a sad note. We have to bid good-bye to several of the brothers because of entrance into the armed forces. These men are Farley, Davis, Varner, Harkins, and Neal. Kenneth Egger has taken a position with Eastman in Kingsport, and Charles Leger is awaiting military call. To all of them and to those who will be called sooner or later, best of luck.—ROBERT BJODSTRUP

MISSISSIPPI

ALPHA PHI CHAPTER of Delta Sigma Pi, at the University of Mississippi, pledged seven outstanding men in the School of Commerce and Business Tuesday, March 10, 1942. The new pledges and their classes are: Robert Bobo, freshman; Billy Henley, sophomore; John Hinman, freshman; Buddy Kramer, sophomore; Allen Saffold, freshman; Soggy Sweat, junior; and Ellis Travillion, junior. The chapter is looking forward to the initiation, which is to be held in the very near future.

Each year in the spring, Alpha Phi sponsors an annual Commerce Day on the University of Mississippi campus. This year, Commerce Day is to be held on Thursday, April 9, 1942. Our plan is to start at 9:00 o'clock in the morning, with separate forums for the students in each division, on Banking, Merchandising, Accounting, and Secretarial Training. A guest speaker will conduct each of these forums. Mr. J. D. McConnico, Sales Promotion Manager, in charge of the Mail Order Division of Sears-Roebuck & Company, of Memphis, Tenn., will conduct the forum on Merchandising. Mr. Ralph Crockett, Assistant Cashier, and Manager of the Personal Loan Department of the First National Bank of Memphis, Tenn., will conduct the forum on Banking. Speakers of equal quality are being engaged for the other forums. At 10:30 o'clock all BSC students will gather in the graduate Auditorium to hear the guest speaker of the day, who is Mr. E. R. Oliver, Vice President in charge of Traffic of the Southern Railway Company of Washington, D.C. The program will be concluded with a luncheon in the cafeteria with all BSC students attending.

Alpha Phi Chapter is making plans to have the entire chapter eat dinner together in the University Cafeteria on Tuesday evenings. The chapter is also planning a number of parties, so that the social side of our chapter will not be neglected as it has been in the past.

OHIO STATE

ON FEBRUARY 2, NU CHAPTER held its annual election and the following officers were elected: Head Master, David H. Walbolt; Senior Warden, William R. Hahn; Junior Warden, Ben H. Snyder; Treasurer, Robert H. Compton; Scribe, Lowell K. Solt; and Historian, Paul E. Redmond. Brother Walbolt is from Toledo, Ohio and is a junior in industrial management. Brother Hahn is from Poland, Ohio and is a sophomore in industrial management. Brother Snyder is from Fairport Harbor and is a sophomore in accounting. Brother Compton is from Troy and is a junior in accounting. Brother Solt is also a junior in accounting and is from Groveport. Brother Redmond is from Columbus, and is a sophomore in accounting. After the election, the new officers were inducted into office by the retiring Head Master, Brother Cox.

Rough initiation was held for four undergraduates on January 30-31. The four men initiated were Bob Compton, Lowell Solt, Ted Suchon and Carl Steward. Formal initiation was Sunday, February 1. At this time, the four undergraduates and one Faculty Member were formally initiated into Delta Sigma Pi. The ritual was conducted by the alumni of Nu Chapter. The Faculty Member is Clarence Slocum, who is working on his Doctor's Degree at Ohio State.

Professional and rushing activities are getting a good deal of attention here at Nu Chapter. We have a speaker at least twice a month. This year the professional meetings have been combined with rushing smokers. We find this very successful at Ohio State. Most of our pledges have been pledged at our professional meetings. We have had very interesting speakers at our professional meetings, and several of the alumni in Columbus have been in attendance at our meetings and have assisted in rushing.

Because of the tremendous amount of work the Rushing Chairman has to do, Brother Steward was appointed to work with the Senior Warden. They have been working together this quarter and have pledged several men and also have some fine prospects. We now have ten good pledges in our pledge class, and as most of these men will go through initiation spring quarter, we will have a large active chapter by the end of the year.

Many of the alumni of Nu Chapter have answered Uncle Sam's call to service. We have men in the Army, the Coast Guard, the Navy, and we have a man in the Leatherneck Corps, the United States Marines. We know of two men who are in the War zone, Robert B. Streep and Oliver B. Combs. Brother Streep is the American Consul at Straits Settlement. Brother Combs is a Major in the Field Artillery in General MacArthur's Army in the Philippines. Nu Chapter is indeed proud of its men in the service, and know that they will uphold the prestige of Delta Sigma Pi in the service of their country as they have done in the business world. Good luck, alumni. When the world is again at peace, we can proudly say, "The men of Delta Sigma Pi helped to preserve our precious heritage, the United States of America."—PAUL E. REDMOND

MISSOURI

THE SECOND SEMESTER finds Alpha Beta Chapter vigorously planning a program of rush activities designed to build up a large reserve of undergraduates for the 1942-1943 school year. Our intention is to assure an effective working organization, even though the wartime situation is certain to see some of the members joining up with Uncle Sam during the summer. The pledging program will center around a busy rush week, that will include three evenings of activities. The ball starts rolling on a Tuesday night with a professional meeting at which the main attraction will be a talk given by Dr. L. W. Bowman of Stephens College, who has promised an entertaining discourse on the subject "Marriage." This should prove interesting to rushees and actives alike, particularly to Brother Warnhoff who has only recently committed himself to the practical application of the principles of this subject.

Friday evening of the same week will see actives, rushees, and their feminine favorites take over a major part of the Student Union Building for an informal dance. Closely on the heels of this dance will be a date dinner at Harris' Cafe on Sunday evening, which will find the rushees and their dates as guests of honor. The chapter feels that this intensive week of rushing, together with the regularly scheduled activities of the semester, will go a long way towards the successful attainment of our pledging goal.

A blow to the chapter and all the members was the loss of Head Master Max O. Shemwell, who is now serving with the U. S. Navy. He is in training with Class V-6 of the Naval Reserve and will emerge as a Petty Officer. His splendid work as Head Master during the first semester was recognized and appreciated by all. He was an inspiring leader and a true friend and brother of all Deltasigs. Called unexpectedly a few days in advance of his scheduled leaving, he was unable to attend a dinner given for the dual purpose of farewell and installation. A compensatory feature of this loss was the installation of Edward W. Lupberger as Head Master, a choice that met with unanimous approval of all. At the same dinner, Harry Freed was installed as Senior Warden, a post left vacant by Lupberger. The new officers have already accomplished much to show their worth and justify the confidence placed in them.

Two other members left school with the change of semesters. Major Montgomery accepted a position with Phillips Petroleum at Phillips, Texas, and Homer Biesemeyer is now connected with Arthur Andersen & Company in Chicago. The chapter wishes both of these men success in their new occupations. George Keepers has been welcomed back to school after spending several months on a defense job in New Mexico. William Etheridge is back in school working for his Master's Degree.

Delta Sigma Pi is maintaining its rather prominent status on the "Mizzou" campus. Head Master Lupberger is found in many capacities, among which are President of the Council of the School of Business and Public Administration, lab assistant in accounting, a member of the Student War Board for Student Civilian Defense, and he was recently appointed as one of the six honor cadet officers in the reserve field artillery unit at Missouri. Oliver Patton, first semester President of Defoe Hall, men's dormitory, was succeeded by John Gunn, another Deltasig, a second semester President. Homer Backer and Harry Freed joined Lupberger and Herman Miller as lab assistants in the department of accounting and statistics.—ALFRED NORDSTROM, JR.

TEXAS

STRIDING ALONG TOGETHER through these Wartimes, the Beta Kappas decided to skip the tire-wearing annual industrial tour of distant major manufacturing cities in favor of strictly local activities. This semester's program began with a professional dinner at the Tea House, where Mr. Vestal Lemmon, Director and Actuary of the Casualty Insurance Department of the State Board of Insurance Commissioners, discussed casualty insurance with particular emphasis on the effect of the War on this type of insurance.

Continuing on this theme of War influences, the Beta Kappas at the spring smoker were given colorful, inside pictures of the lives of foreign correspondents by Dr. DeWitt Reddick, who integrated these various stories in a manner which made for a better understanding of the problems of news coverage, censorship, and presentation—all valuable elements for intelligently interpreting current news stories.

Leaving work and War worries behind, about twenty rushees invaded the Bull Creek wilds with the Beta Kappas for an afternoon of fun and feasting.

Those selected from this group will swell the ranks of the Deltasigs who will soon be enjoying the day-long outing at Wimberly, the two scheduled professional dinners, and the dinner-dance planned for the middle of May.

Other plans are being made for the Grand Chapter Congress this fall. The Freds, Knight and Lounsbury, will represent Texas' Beta Kappas.—FRED DICKSON

ALPHA BETA CHAPTER AT THE UNIVERSITY OF MISSOURI

LOUISIANA STATE

A CLOSER FELLOWSHIP between Louisiana State's Beta Zeta Chapter and Rider's Beta Xi Chapter was brought about by the transfer to Harding Field to Private Johnny Hehr, enthusiastic brother of Beta Xi Chapter, who is now located with the Weapon Ordnance Department of the 57th Pursuit Squadron at the local air base. After an invitation to attend a pledge smoker, held Tuesday, March 3, Brother Hehr accepted. During the progress of the meeting he talked impressively to the prospective pledges of the advantages of joining an international fraternity like Delta Sigma Pi.

One of the concrete examples he presented of how the fraternity helped him of need happened on his trip to Florida last Easter. The Mu Chapter at Georgetown University (Washington, D.C.) gave him and another brother, who accompanied him, a night's lodging and some money so that they could continue on their way. He also enjoyed telling of the fine treatment he got from brothers at Miami.

We learned, too, of his army career up-to-date. Upon joining the Army Air Corps on August 4, 1941, in Trenton, New Jersey (his home town), he was transferred to Fort Dix, New Jersey, where he was stationed for ten days. His next big jump was by troop train to Paine Field in Everett, Washington. Finally, he arrived here at Harding Field on February 3, 1942. Johnny has already shown great interest in our chapter and is making plans to attend a wiener-roast for the pledges and members to be held at Brother Sid Champagne's farm soon.

The next time Beta Zeta Chapter will eat together as a body will be at the Third Annual Commerce Banquet sponsored by our chapter. We plan to make the banquet the greatest success of our college year.

Another brother, although not with us in person, is with us in spirit. That brother is Major Karl D. Reyer, who is associated with the Supply Corps in the office of the Chief of Staff in Washington, D.C. Before he left here in the fall of 1940, he was Assistant Director of the Bureau of Business Research of Louisiana State University and Delta Sigma Pi Province Director for Louisiana.

In a letter of December 6, which appeared in the March 3, 1942 Beta Zeta Bulletin, Brother Reyer strongly encouraged the local members to "make the most of each class (in college) and the opportunities it presents." He accented this point by referring to a story he liked to tell to his senior class about a French boy by the name of Frans, who, instead of studying his French lessons, would play all day long. But when the Germans invaded his home, French was taught no longer—only German—and Frans, the thoughtless little boy, reproached himself for not learning his French lessons when he had the opportunity.

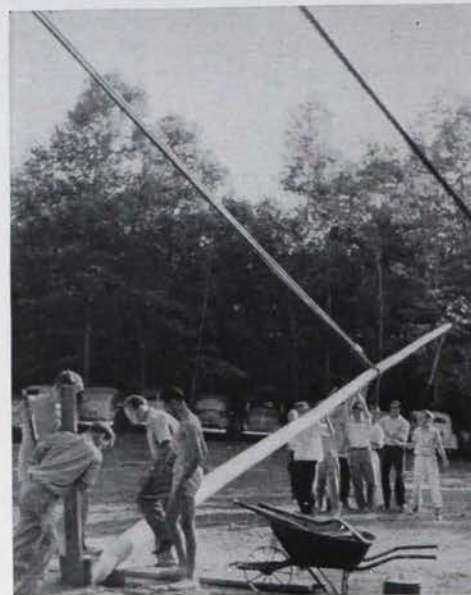

Brother Reyer realizes, especially now, the need to learn one's lessons well. As a result of his study in the Army Industrial College, he, today, plays an important rôle in our country's attainment of victory.—GEORGE MOOK

GEORGIA—Kappa

A SPECIAL HONOR ROLL is being instituted by Head Master Ford Rives to honor those men of Kappa Chapter that have been called into active service in defense of our country. After the regular roll is called, the Scribe calls this special roll of honor and we are again reminded of those brothers that are unable to be with us in person. At this writing there are fifty-two Kappa men serving in the different branches of our Armed Forces. As we are reminded of these brothers and the work they have done for the chapter in the past we are spurred on to new efforts by the realization that we must carry on for them.

We are still having to elect officers to fill the posts vacated by brothers leaving for the Army and Navy. Our most recent losses included the Senior Warden, Junior Warden and Master of Festivities within one month. With one or two exceptions, every office in the fraternity has been vacated at least once since the annual elections last Spring. However, we feel fortunate that we have been able to find capable replacements for these posts.

MEMBERS OF KAPPA CHAPTER ERECT FLAG POLE AT DELTASIG LODGE

Kappa's first initiation of the year was held on January 17 and 18 with eight men being ushered into the fraternity. These new brothers are Ed Beckham, George Shell, Ted O'Callaghan, Bob Dale, Buck Minor, Buster Stewart, Marshall Asher and Joe Sullivan. We are expecting to have another initiation within the next two months, so, by the time this appears in print, we should have additional brothers in Delta Sigma Pi.

Athletics have been very much in the spotlight for Kappa this year. We are very proud of our football team that defeated Alpha Kappa Psi in a grueling battle on Thanksgiving Day. The 7-0 score belies the true ability of these gridiron stalwarts of ours, who gave us a game filled with thrills and spills. Our basketball team is now in full swing and is busily engaged in taking on various teams around Atlanta. Our sports calendar for this spring also includes such varied activities as bowling, tennis and golf.

Georgia Evening College is instituting a program of target practice in an effort to promote the Civilian Defense activities in this section. Bill Lozier, former New York State Rifle Champion and former captain of the Columbia University Rifle Team and who is now Kappa's very capable Chancellor, has been named as one of those in charge of this program. We intend to organize a rifle team and fire in competition with the other organizations in school.

On February 1 we had our first smoker of this school quarter. We were very proud of the forty-odd fine looking prospects we had out and are hoping that a number of them will be future brothers of ours. O. C. Hubert, President of the Atlanta Junior Chamber of Commerce, gave us a very interesting and informative address regarding the Civilian Defense Program his organization is sponsoring in this section in co-operation with various other civic groups.

Plans are now being made for our annual Founders' Day banquet which will be held some time in March. As yet, these plans are still in the formulative stage but we are expecting to have one of the most successful banquets we have ever had, in spite of so many of our most active men being away.—HOGAN F. BUFORD

DETROIT

THETA CHAPTER TAKES PLEASURE in announcing the initiation of genial "Dad" Butler, beloved U of D trainer, as Faculty Member with our last pledge class. So many honors have been heaped upon "Dad" this past year and the sports writers have given him such countrywide acclaim that it is impossible to go into detail here. We will say, however, that "Dad" is a Deltasig from way back. His son, now engaged in rather perilous work in South America, was one of our Theta Chapter boys.

There is really nothing quite like a good New Year's Eve party and our last one was really good. The committeemen, realizing that it might well be the last time that we could all get together for such a party (the army is the only life!), outdid themselves in preparing a really super, super affair. All in all it lasted six hours, and few of us could remember ever having a better time.

The Detroit Alumni Club is taking more and more interest in the activities of the active chapter—which interest, incidentally, is acting as a shot in the arm to both organizations. At the last alumni banquet they inaugurated a loyalty award which each year is to be given to that member of the active chapter who is voted the most loyal to his fraternity with regard to activities, attendance at meetings, and prompt payment of financial obligations. Brother Vettraino, our Master of Festivities, was the lucky man this year and besides receiving a very handsome platinum key, he has his name inscribed in first place on a mammoth gold cup which is to be placed in the hall of the Commerce and Finance Building. In accepting the award Brother Vettraino said that he realized that he was receiving the honor only because Head Master Joe Bauser, was ruled ineligible. The Alumni Club feels that without this last ruling the incumbent Head Master would almost invariably get the award, thus more or less defeating its purpose, which is to inspire extra activity on the part of the rank-and-file members.

"After the J-Prom Ends, the Deltasig Breakfast Begins." With such notices as this posted conspicuously in all buildings of the University we set to work to make this year's J-Prom Breakfast, the biggest event on our calendar, the best ever. And did we succeed? Ask the cops along Woodward who almost had to re-route traffic to take care of the mob which moved from the Masonic Temple's Fountain Ballroom over to Saks Show Bar, where we held the breakfast. And should you want further proof of our success you might cast a glance at Treasurer Ed Hussey's beaming face. Highlight of the breakfast was the introduction by the orchestra of the new Delta Sigma Pi song "With the Colors." This song was written by Mrs. Donohue, mother of our own Thomas Donohue, to commemorate the Delta Sigma Pi men who are now in our country's various armed forces.

At our last meeting, a motion was passed in favor of our continuing to give jeweled badges as farewell tokens to our members leaving for various Government services. Work was also definitely begun on a membership directory which we hope to have out by the Ides of March.—CHARLES W. MOORE, JR.

BAYLOR

AS THE WINTER TERM entered, the Beta Iota Chapter began to make plans for socials, their annual formal banquet, rushing activities etc. The first activity was our January professional meeting held at the Roosevelt Hotel at which time Mr. Whit Smith of the Beard and Stone Electrical Appliance Company spoke. A short business meeting followed. For our February professional meeting, our speaker was Mr. A. C. Upleggar. Mr. Upleggar is an alumnus of the New York chapter of Alpha Kappa Psi and was the first C.P.A. in Texas. He presented a very interesting talk including a review of the formation of Delta Sigma Pi. He was also associated and knew each of the four founders of our fraternity.

Probably the most enjoyable affair of the term was our annual banquet held February 21 at the Roosevelt Hotel. For a theme, we carried our float motif that won first place in the Homecoming parade. The colors of red, white, and blue were used with miniature Uncle Sam hats in the form of banks were placed at each plate. Kenneth White of Dallas, a member of the Grand Council was a guest of the chapter at the banquet as well as various faculty members from our business school. Following the banquet the guests were entertained with a dance with music being furnished by the University Scots. It was one of the most enjoyable and successful banquets the chapter has had in several years.

Our winter term informal initiation was held March 9th at which time four pledges were initiated; Bill Davis, Jack Jackson, Phil Maros, and Dan Julian. The formal initiation for these pledges will be held March 16th. Our chapter has been working extensively on rushing activities for our spring term pledges which will include probably a class of 11 boys.

The chapter has made plans for several social functions for the spring term. Included in this are picnics, hay rides, several stag dinners and the industrial tour at which time the members will go to Dallas as guests of the Alumni Club there and will make a tour of several of the large business concerns in Dallas. These tours are an annual event with our chapter; last year we made two—one to Dallas and one to Houston. The highlighting event on our social calendar for the spring is our club reception to be held on or around May 15 when the members of all the clubs on the campus are invited to attend our reception and dance. This is an event well looked forward to by all the clubs.

At the present time not very many of our members have been called to serve in Uncle Sam's Army but many are expecting to be called in the near future. Our new officers are busily engaged making preparations for the chapter and have formulated several plans which should make the chapter see one of its most successful seasons.—MAX FARRAR

SOUTH DAKOTA

AFTER READING H. G. Wright's article, "This Business of Getting a Job," we at Alpha Eta Chapter did a bit of checking up and found that Delta Sigma Pi brothers here have some important jobs on the campus. For example, Head Master James Harmon works in Dean Sparks' office, Marwin Person and Clayton Rise correct papers in the accounting department, Rex Twiss is employed in the University Co-op Store, Frank Nafziger works in the library, Roger Russell corrects papers in the Business English department, Don Wohlenberg leads the "U" dance band called the Varsity Men, and Ronnie Campbell works at the Citizens Bank as assistant cashier, and plays sax with the Varsity Men.

William Slaton, an alumnus of Alpha Rho Chapter and until recently assistant director in the University Business Research Bureau, received a special civil service appointment with the Price Control Administration. Bill plans to stay in Washington, D.C. for the present. Later he will be transferred to either Texas or Colorado. Good luck to you Brother Slaton from all of us at Alpha Eta.

We lost three brothers at semester time. Milford Richards left for Washington, D.C. to accept an accounting position with a public utility company, James Healy has gone to St. Bernard's Seminary at Sioux Falls, S.D. to study for the priesthood, and Clarence Young, who was recently married, has taken a position with J. J. Newberry Co.—FRANK NAFZIGER

CINCINNATI

A WORLD AT WAR has made heavy demands on Alpha Theta Chapter. A large part of our membership has been called to contribute to the Defense effort. John Stevenson was killed en route to camp as a Private in the Army. Harold Douthit is stationed at Fort Knox, Ky., William Imsande at Camp Shelby, Miss., and Hubert Lyons at the Aberdeen Proving Grounds, Aberdeen, Md. As civilians, Tom Smart and Henry Bosland have been summoned away from Cincinnati. The former is at the Great Lakes Naval Training Station and the latter is at Patterson Field, Dayton, Ohio. Yates Welles is doing his part with the Cincinnati Planer Corporation here at home. Orville Anderson, who recently visited us, is now doing Defense work with the International Harvester Company in Aurora, Ill. Brother Anderson was our Head Master in 1932.

George Schattle, a Lieutenant in the Cincinnati Police Department, has been on leave since May, 1941, thus being enabled to take charge of the Naval Intelligence Office in

BETA IOTA CHAPTER, BAYLOR UNIVERSITY, taken at their formal party, February 21st, 1942

Cincinnati. Fred Dixon, serving on the University of Cincinnati Faculty as an R.O.T.C. instructor, has recently been promoted to the rank of Major in the United States Army. Burnett Reed, who is chairman of the New Business Department of the Cincinnati Chamber of Commerce, now has Office of Production Management work added to his responsibilities.

In spite of the crippling effect of the War, Alpha Theta Chapter pushes on. January 23, 1942 was a double feature night at the University. At our professional meeting, Harold Riesz, Assistant City Editor of the Cincinnati Post, gave an illustrated lecture entitled "History in the Headlines." Brother Riesz demonstrated how the events immediately prior to the attack on Pearl Harbor were shown step by step in the headlines. We also had on the campus, Douglas Miller, Denver, who spoke on "American Business Faces a Totalitarian World." Brother Miller was Commercial Attaché in Berlin from 1925 to 1939 and is the author of the volume You Can't Do Business with Hitler. Brother Miller envisions a black future for American business unless we throttle Japan and Germany.

On February 8 came the winter initiation of Alpha Theta neophytes at the Hotel Sinton. Those initiated were Arthur Turner, Ernest Bakie, and George Robinson. Preliminary afternoon festivities were in charge of Howard Roller. After a 6:00 o'clock banquet, Werner Gholson conducted the formal initiation. Both sessions were very impressive. Brother Turner was elected Keeper of the Parchment for the coming year.

Mention of the Chapter Smoker on February 20 brings our report up to the minute. We are looking forward to Deltasig activities on a Wartime basis.—WILBUR CROSS

SOUTH CAROLINA

BETA GAMMA CHAPTER HELD its second initiation of the year from Sunday, March 1, through March 8 at the chapter house. The four new brothers who have been vested with the badge of Delta Sigma Pi, and initiated into full fellowship are: Robert Reese of Florence, S.C.; Charlie S. Altman of Marion, S.C.; Waddy J. Hill of Fountain Inn, S.C.; and John O. Hooper of Saluda, N.C.

The informal initiation was held Thursday night March 5, and formal initiation was held Friday night, March 6, with W. Frank Taylor, Jr. heading our ritual team. A banquet is planned for the new initiates on Tuesday, March 17.

Spring is here and we have immediately planned a program of social activities appropriate for the season. Beta Gamma is planning a spring dance and banquet in collaboration with the School of Commerce in April.

Comes graduation, and Beta Gamma will be hard hit by the graduation of eight seniors.

Being located in a city that has one of the largest army posts in America, Fort Jackson, we have a chance to contact many brothers from other chapters, as well as our local alumni members.

Well, fellow chapters, we extend our best wishes for your success with Uncle Sam. We are sure that Delta Sigma Pi with its thousands of members will do more than its part.—JAMES COX

NEWARK

WITH THE HAZARDS of Hell Week overcome, three pledges were formally initiated into Delta Sigma Pi on February 28. At last they and one faculty member, Mr. Layton P. Hall, found themselves undergoing the ritual of induction in the Barracuda Room of the Newark Athletic Club. Soon they were greeted as brothers by the actives, alumni, and honorary members who turned out in strong number for the occasion. The undergraduate initiates were Henry Brandhorst, Donald Dalley, and John Morganelli. Elihu Estes, another pledge, was unable to become a brother because of his induction into the Army. The banquet that followed the ritual was a typical Deltasig success complete with reminiscing alumni, joking, and occasional horseplay. Past Grand President Eugene D. Milener presented the gathering with a glimpse into the future for Delta Sigma Pi. Then Walton Juengst, Province Director, also spoke on a timely topic. Dean Esterly's talk on the meaning of the fraternity was inspiring to brothers both old and new. Among the other members present were Robert Busse, Deputy Province Director, and Newark's First Citizen Franklin Conklin, Jr. Illness prevented the attendance of Dr.

Black, President of the University. Later many of the brothers continued the festivities at the Well, where they celebrated the birthday of Joseph Holoski. The fun included an outburst of "Happy Birthday to You," which was instigated by Brother Holoski's wife, Marie.

During the past few weeks several Deltasigs have been proudly displaying new keys on their watch chains. The reason lies in the installation of Alpha of New Jersey Chapter, of Beta Gamma Sigma, honor society in Commerce, in the School of Business Administration of the University of Newark at the Newark Athletic Club on February 14. Two of the three undergraduate charter members were Brothers Robert C. Jaeger, and Robert E. Moore. Of the four faculty members, three were Deltasigs—Dean George R. Esterly, Dr. Paul K. Edwards, and Professor Nunn. Leroy

BETA OMICRON UNDERGRADUATE MEMBERS
Initiation February 28, 1942

H. H. Snyder and Joseph Holoski were among the six members of the June 1941 graduates inducted. During the newly-created chapter's first banquet that followed Dean Esterly and Robert Jaeger, President of the local chapter, were speakers.

Another scholastic achievement was marked by the recent presentation of the Interfraternity Council scholarship trophy to Beta Omicron Chapter. This award is given to the fraternity on the campus that attains the highest average scholarship.

As this article is being written, Beta Omicron is making final preparations for its spring formal. The scene of the merrymaking will be the Chateau Baltusroll, a country club near Milburn, and dancing will be to the tunes of Anson Scott and his orchestra.—DONALD L. DALLEY

NORTHWESTERN—Beta

WITH THE MIDYEAR initiation past and gone nine more good men are wearing the badge of Delta Sigma Pi and swelling Beta Chapter's meetings. The current crop of pledges, 12 in number, will serve as the nucleus for the drive to again top our membership quota for the year. Despite the inroads of the draft upon the chapter, more than thirty men will be active during the spring semester. Enlistments and selective service gobbled up five of the men who started school last September, Johnny Henderson and Bob Mocella going into the Navy and Ed Freiman, Jim Noren and Dick Aronson donning the khaki, and took a toll from the largest pledge class in many years.

Athletically Beta Chapter is maintaining a position of eminence in the School of Commerce by climbing to the top in the "Sweepstakes" race. Points are awarded in every sport and a cup presented to the high team at the end of the year. Last year's cup was easily salted away but only one and a quarter points now separates the Deltasigs from their closest adversary. Although the bowlers have accredited themselves nobly, the spring baseball team will have to finish on top to preserve the margin for victory. Prospects look good.

Holding their first "all-school" mixer in a decade, the Beta men enjoyed a tremendous box-office success. The dance was held in Abbott Hall, the skyscraper dormitory, on March 6. An eight piece orchestra furnished music of sorts and some cause for comment. Master of Festivities George Cavalenes was highly pleased with the whole undertaking.

Zeta Chapter played host to the boys and their dates at an informal house party on March 13 at the Zeta house. Despite some freakish weather, not altogether unexpected on a Friday the 13th, a goodly crowd attended and enjoyed the northern hospitality.

A round of open house parties for the major sororities is about to get under way to add zest to the social calendar. The boys usually wait until the ladies have garnered a choice group of pledges and then start partying before the competition becomes too keen. This year will be no exception since a group of the boys had an informal advance showing of the prospective crop at one of the houses.—JAMES A. KERR

TEMPLE

OMEGA CHAPTER HELPED to contribute to the Philadelphia Inquirer's "Help Buy a Bomber" Fund by staging a basketball game and dance with our arch rivals, Sigma Pi. All the proceeds, approximately $100, were turned over to the Inquirer the next day. The attendance of the Deltasigs was extremely good, numbering about 50, including several of the alumni. The entire attendance for the affair was 450 people from the university. Although we lost the game 34-23, we played a nice game, George Slafkosky captaining the team and leading the scoring with 9 points. G. Dewey Roberts, our Head Master, was second high scorer with 7 points, Peter Bittenbender, Sam Calvert, Charles Cooper, Bob Palmer, and Tony Di Tomo, a pledge who is a varsity football player, all contributed to do their best.

Omega Chapter is doing its bit towards national defense and they will continue to do so throughout the duration of the war by instigating benefit games and dances. The proceedings will go to charitable and war organizations.

The Annual Dinner-Dance will be held at the Lulu Temple Country Club on May 16. This affair is to be the biggest and most spectacular ever held by Omega, because many of the brothers that haven't been called to the colors as yet, are expecting to go before next year rolls around. All alumni brothers, ATTENTION!!! Note the date—May 16, come and have a good time with us. Read the Omegazine for further details.

A colorful pledging period was terminated on March 8 when formal initiation started. During the pledge period, ten men were pledged but however, only five will be able to be initiated. They are William Delbridge, James Tracy, Samuel Frock, Micheal Clark, and Allen Maxwell. A smoker on February 18, held at the chapter house and a banquet held on February 24 at Palumbo's Restaurant were the attractions for the new men. Many faculty brothers joined the actives in welcoming the rushees. Ted Serfas, aided diligently by Jim Smith, succeeded in performing an excellent task.

On February 21, a stag party was held at the house to commemorate the 19th year of the chapter's existence. The date that Omega Chapter became a chapter of Delta Sigma Pi was February 17, 1923. It is now the oldest fraternity on the Temple campus that has been continually in operation. The birthday was celebrated in true Deltasig manner with actives and pledges mingling with the alumni brothers.—EDWARD J. SODOMA

MARQUETTE

DELTA CHAPTER CONTINUED again its leadership in the College of Business Administration. It is now under the supervision of a new set of chapter officers. They are: Head Master, William Rech; Senior Warden, Howard Schneider; Junior Warden, James Lipscomb; Scribe, Glen Ethier; Treasurer, Stanley Pappas; Chancellor, Daniel Manning; Senior Guide, James Malsack; Junior Guide, Leroy Wertz; Master of Festivities, Roland Westphal; and Delta Drawl Editor, Anthony Kuban. A new plan for social and business meetings was also evolved. It was agreed that the first and third Mondays of each month were to be utilized for business meetings as has been customary in the past, while the second and last meetings were to be used for informal gatherings of the members and pledges.

A joint smoker at the Schlitz Brown Bottle was held March 16 under the auspices of the Deltasig Alumni Club of Milwaukee. Needless to say, the affair was in the best tradition of Delta Chapter smokers. Founders' Day shall be celebrated on May 3, while the annual spring formal will take place two weeks later, May 16, at the Milwaukee Yacht Club. With over a dozen seniors leaving, this dance will be the last opportunity for them to participate as active members in fraternity social events.

In the scholastic limelight we find Howard Burns, Bob Martin, Al Pitterle, and Anthony Kuban as members of Beta Gamma Sigma. Stanley Pappas, James Malsack, Al Pitterle, and Robert Martin were recently elected to the new accounting fraternity, Beta Alpha Psi. Tony Kuban was the only person in Business Administration to obtain the perfect average of straight "A."

Ray Apolskis, former grid star, has returned to the college after a very successful season with the Chicago Cardinals. Delta Chapter expects to place a strong team in the track intramural meet with Red Jans, broad jump; Leroy Wertz, high jump; Warren Carity, shot put; and Roland Westphal and John Reuteman, in the distances. The winning intramural football team consisted of a majority of Deltasigs. They brought the trophy to the College of Business Administration.

Particularly fortunate was Delta Chapter in initiating Dr. Peter Palmer, a recent faculty addition, as a member of Delta Sigma Pi. With his wide experience, his conscientious help, his advice, and his good fellowship, Dr. Palmer promises to be a fine asset to both the college and the fraternity. Dr. Barr, Professors Ten Haken, Knick, and Hoffman are other Faculty members of the chapter.

In addition to Dr. Palmer, there were formally initiated on March 15, the following new members: Don Brill, Bob Knippel, John McDermott, Matt Gross, Alphons Pitterle, John Reuteman, Warren Carity and Gene Scholler. Another initiation will be held in May.—AL PITTERLE

DE PAUL

FRANK TANGNEY RESIGNED as Head Master of Alpha Omega Chapter Friday, March 6, and was succeeded by Carl Paulsen who has served as Senior Warden during the past year. Frank discontinued his schooling since he was entering the armed services.

A word of praise to the "wolf at the door," Leon Jarosz, who is seeing to it that all the boys keep their dues paid up. Jim Angio and John Anastos are mapping plans for our next smoker. They have lined up such radio announcers as Jess Kirkpatrick of WGN and Jim Dudley of WJJD, both sports commentators. Johnny Stephens is whipping the Deltasig intramural team into shape and hopes to gain a championship. Bob Strass, Jack Haverkamp, Jimmy Angio, and Johnny Haunschild round out the starting team. E. John Sierosinski, "the mayor of Cicero," is looking great after recovering from a long illness.

The rest of the boys wish to congratulate

OMEGA CHAPTER OF TEMPLE UNIVERSITY ENTERTAINS

Carl Paulsen on his new position and wish the best of luck in the remaining days of this season.—ROBERT W. SHINNICK

PENNSYLVANIA

ON THURSDAY, MARCH 5, at the regular business meeting of Beta Nu Chapter there were elected to office for the next year the following brothers: Head Master, Carl H. Lenz; Senior Warden, Ralph L. Jones; Junior Warden, James J. Gavin; Scribe, Peter

OFFICERS OF OUR PENNSYLVANIA CHAPTER

Gratzon; Treasurer, William Hagendorf; Chancellor, George W. Powell; Historian, Willard B. Touchton, Jr. These new officers must strive hard if they are to attain the achievements of the retiring Board of Governors. Former Head Master Gene Minahan received a round of applause for his excellent work during the past year, and the tangible evidence of his administration not only shines forth at 3902 but it rests with accomplishments at the University and with closer alumni relations. Gene did a swell job in the driver's seat, and the active chapter benefited immeasurably from his ideas and managerial tactics. As his motto was "He Profits Most Who Serves Best," so it will be the shining light for the new officers.

Acting upon the suggestion of Dick Boyajian, the Professional and Membership Committees planned and conducted a Deltasig Week of professional and social activities at 3902 from March 9 to the 14th inclusive. With the co-operation of Ralph Jones, Peter Scotese, Frank Rabiolo, and Ken Voorhies, the following program was arranged:

Monday: Brother Mel Cassell was at the controls of his Motion Picture projector. Sports and current events were featured in his film presentations, highlighted with flashes of Frank Lamey, Fred Oeschger, Horace Rhodes, Bill Sarka, Doug Merrill, Bill Sickler, Frank Bickel, Bob Hughes and other brothers with their girl friends and wives who were candidly filmed by Mel at last June's spring formal.

Tuesday: Major George J. Stadler, U.S.A. Signal Corps conducted an open forum on phases of military communications. Brother Stadler acquainted the brothers and guests with what many of us may deal with later.

Wednesday: Sergeant James Hackett, of the U. S. Marine Corps, an alumnus of Alpha Chapter led a round table discussion on "How Would You Beat the Axis?" With his world wide knowledge of historical data obtained while with the Associated Press, Brother Hackett circled the globe with his large audience and reviewed all possibilities.

Thursday: "Meet the Alumni Night." This was the opportunity for actives and guests to meet the alumni who inaugurated extra-curricular activities at Penn. Fred Floyd and Addis Bowles gave short talks along with the guest speaker who solicited fraternity volunteers for Civilian Defense Work.

Friday: Open House Night. Songs, bridge, pinochle, ping-pong, and Deltasig hospitality at its best. Guests pitched in on the decorating.

Saturday: St. Patrick's Dance. Drummer Boy Touchton brought a 'filla ga dusha' band to 3902 to furnish some solid jive, for the party. Pictures of the Spring Formal were again shown at the dance for the benefit of those who missed the first showing. Brother Gratzon was clicking all night with his flash camera; an especially good shot was taken of the winners of the Irish jig, Mr. and Mrs. John Dugan.

After this full week of seriousness and fun, the chapter will settle down to its normal functions under new leadership. Head Master Lenz will put the finishing touches to the Beta Nu calendar which will include another Hedgerow Party, the Student Association's School Formal, the Alumni's Monte Carlo Party and the ever popular Spring Formal.—PETER GRATZON

COLORADO

OUR CHAPTER HAS PLANNED an extensive winter term program of business and professional meetings to be held on alternate Thursdays. The meetings that have been held under the program have been well attended. Duties were distributed among the recently initiated members. When entertainment is provided at the regular meetings, rushees are invited to attend giving the meetings a dual purpose. As the chapter lost several members to the armed forces and to war industries, winter rushing activities have been carried on rather extensively.

Special events of this term have been the convocation of the School of Business and the annual School of Business banquet. Both were very entertaining and educational; the members of Alpha Rho Chapter attended in a body.—JOHN E. MORELAND

NEW YORK

WITH THE CLOSING of the exam weeks, fraternal functionings are gathering new life and action. Another "Hell-Week" was held, starting February 4, at which time three men were initiated. Alpha is glad to extend the fraternal clasp to our three new brothers: Clifford J. Milton, John P. Perkins, and Richard R. Routh. A new wrinkle, and a good one, too, we believe, was added to the routine "Hell-Week" procedure at this time. All three men were sent to three other different province chapters (Omega, Beta Xi, and Beta Nu) on "quest nite." Besides offering an opportunity for the new men to use their wits (and feet!) it gave the three new men a broader, more immediate conception of Delta Sigma Pi. Each of the goats returned smiling, impressed and with a good tale to tell. The formal initiation was held at the chapter house Sunday, February 8. Following the ritual, a welcome banquet was held at the Fifth Avenue Hotel. Joseph H. Bonneville of the Banking and Finance Department of the university, was guest speaker, together with Nick Ther, Deputy Province Director and Manager of production control of the Sperry Gyroscope Company. Both men gave timely and interesting addresses, speaking on "The Fraternity's Position in the Present Crisis."

Initiation had hardly been completed when it was made known to the chapter that Ted Hetzer, Al Karhan and Ray Otto would not be returning this semester. Brother Otto is waiting induction orders; Brother Hetzer is waiting for a "clarification" of his draft status, while Brother Karhan has enlisted in the Army Air Forces. Brother Owsiany left us February 10 to embark on his "world cruise." Brother Sumer is now in the Medical Corps, not having returned to school last fall. This brings the total of Alphas, past and present, who are serving in one branch or another of service to over thirty.

John O'Donnell was chairman of the Violet Skull Orientation Smoker for Frosh, held February 19 at Lassman Hall. Brother O'Donnell promises the boys "the big deal" on the Annual Skull Beer Smoker. The theme for this year, we are told, is "Keep 'em Rolling!" (The kegs, no doubt!)

Spring rushing began on March 4 for Deltasigs of Alpha Chapter. Although rushing is carried throughout the entire year, special effort is made during this period. In view of the present fraternity crisis, allied to the national, all efforts are doubled. A well rounded program has been organized, constituted of the best speakers available, dances, beer smokers, etc.

Due to certain disturbances in the local chapter organization, caused by the draft, it has been necessary to elect and appoint several new officers to finish the year. Bud Stahl, who has often in the past offered proof of his ability to organize a bang-up social, was elected Master of Festivities. John Yuells was elected to hold the chairmanship of Professional Programs and Dick Routh has been elected Junior Skull Delegate to serve with John O'Donnell. The chapter received, with regret, the resignation of Art Hutchinson as Senior Warden. Brother Hutchinson was succeeded in office by Brother Van Deusen who has been serving as Junior Warden.—JOHN F. VAN DEUSEN, JR.

OMEGA CHAPTER BASKETBALL CHAMPIONS—1942

Robert Palmer, Charles Cooper, Dewey Roberts, George Slafkosky, Tony Di Tomo, Peter Bittenbender and Sam Calvert. They have only lost two games in two years.

CHICAGO

ALTHOUGH ITS RANKS are somewhat thinned out due to the War situation, Alpha Psi Chapter is still continuing to carry on a fairly elaborate program of activities. We had two smokers during the winter quarter, both of which were very well attended. Besides these we had two stag parties, an initiation, participated in an all campus conference on "Religion and the Social Order," and continued on with our regular Tuesday and Friday luncheons with business meetings and occasional speakers at the Tuesday noon affairs.

At our first smoker of the quarter, held on January 13, Mr. George Brown, our faculty adviser, gave us a report of his recent four weeks' stay in Washington where he was employed by the government in a defense position. Brother Brown also gave examples of many humorous incidents that are occurring in the capital because of the crowded conditions and numerous strangers wandering around the city. Three of the junior members of the School of Business faculty, Mr. Jeuck, Mr. Ochstein, and Mr. Tannenbaum took part in a round-table discussion on the subject "Economics and the War" at our February smoker. They covered many different phases of the effect of the War on the business world.

Our two stag parties were held at the homes of Brother Dick Dallager and Brother Bob Franzen. Before the second party we initiated Lee Gaalaas, a pledge from Grand Rapids, Minn., who was to be taken in last fall but was ill on initiation day. As mentioned earlier, we also participated in an all-campus conference on "Religion and the Social Order." Professor Merrill lead our discussion which was centered about the subject "Business Ethics." The topic proved to be very interesting and all who were present thoroughly enjoyed it.

Our future activities are fairly well planned. Some of us plan to attend "Alpha Psi Night" at the Chicago Alumni Club on March 17. Our tour of R. R. Donnelly & Co. Lakeside Press, originally planned for this last quarter will be held early next quarter. The biggest event of the Spring Quarter will, of course, be our Chapter Birthday Celebration to be held around the end of April. Our luncheon meetings will probably be held on Mondays next quarter because of the new schedule of classes which will take effect then.

We were sorry that, due to the pressure of his studies, Carroll Woods, our Head Master, was forced to relinquish his office for the rest of the year. Norm Ellefson has been elected Head Master in his place. I am sure we all agree that Brother Woods, through his untiring efforts, has been almost the entire cause of the successful year that our chapter has enjoyed.

In closing, may I again say that alumni support of our activities has been quite encouraging. However, as the number of actives slowly dwindles due to the war, we shall need more and more alumni help to keep our chapter going. Don't let us down!—HAROLD R. STEINHAUSER machines, are manufactured by Shuler and Benninghofen Woolen Mills in Hamilton.

The Paper Industry in the Miami Valley

Markets

The output of early paper mills was largely consumed in Cincinnati; now paper is shipped all over the world. The Miami Valley is less than two hundred miles from the center of population of the United States, and consequently mills in this area are strategically located to give prompt service to the markets of the north, east, south, and west. The center of the printing industry is in relatively nearby Chicago, and eighteen cities of 100,000 population and over are given overnight service. A paper merchant or buyer can also consolidate purchases in every conceivable grade, except newsprint, from member mills of the Miami Valley Shippers' Association, thus simplifying buying by securing better service at a saving in freight. This eliminates less than carload shipments. The magnitude of this operation can be seen by noting that pool cars and trucks shipped 166,000,000 pounds in 1941, which is in addition to straight carloads shipped by the various mills.

Future Outlook

New uses for paper are constantly being found. Among the most recent uses are draperies, venetian blinds, artificial oil cloth, automobile seat covers, window shades, and milk cartons. Champion keeps one machine busy manufacturing paper stock for milk cartons, for which there is a large potential market yet to be developed. New York City already uses several million pounds of paper stock per year for this purpose.
