Dear Brothers:

It is with great pleasure and confidence that I am writing this letter of recommendation in support of Pi Sigma Beta Colony of Delta Sigma Pi Fraternity.

In the time I have known the members of this relatively new local business fraternity, they have always impressed me as being an outstanding group of college students with a deep and sincere interest in becoming members of Delta Sigma Pi Fraternity. Their interest in the professional ideals of our fraternity is intense. These Behrend College of Penn State University students are exceptional young men and women of superior ability, determination and maturity. With respect to their character, they are of unquestionable integrity and have a well developed set of values, which exemplify their commitment to a professional life based upon respect and concern for their fellow man.

It is my firm opinion that these colony members are an excellent candidate for receipt of a Chapter Charter in Delta Sigma Pi Fraternity. They have worked very hard to achieve the many successes outline in their petition to you. This colony is worthy and deserving of your serious consideration for approval of their Petition for a Chapter Charter. I am very confident these potential brothers of Delta Sigma Pi Fraternity will continue to bring credit to their chosen professions, the Greek community in general and to Delta Sigma Pi in particular.

Fraternally yours,

Richard J. Parnitzke

Dear Members of the Board of Directors:

I am writing to support the request of the Pi Sigma Beta Colony of Delta Sigma Pi for a charter. I believe the members of the colony exemplify the professionalism that Delta Sigma Pi upholds and are committed to establishing a strong chapter for years to come.

The members of the colony have dedicated themselves to the ideals of the fraternity in hope of achieving their goal of establishing a chapter at Penn State-Behrend. During the time I have worked with the Colony as Colony Advisor, I have seen the colony grow both in leadership potential and in membership number. I have been impressed by the initiative and maturity the officers and members have shown in establishing the colony and developing a well-rounded program.

As a Penn State-Behrend alumnus and current faculty member, I feel the college will benefit from the professional program Delta Sigma Pi offers its members. Delta Sigma Pi offers a wider variety of experiences to its members than any other organization currently established at Penn State-Behrend. The International Fraternity of Delta Sigma Pi will also benefit from the establishment of an active chapter at Penn State-Behrend.

I urge you to consider the Colony's petition for a charter. I feel these colony members are worthy of the name Delta Sigma Pi.

Fraternally yours,

Dear Mr. Ferguson:

It is my understanding that members of the Pi Sigma Beta Colony are petitioning for a charter to become an active undergraduate chapter of your fraternity.

I am happy to endorse this application. To the best of my knowledge, all rules, regulations and requirements for chapter status have been met.

At Penn State, the President delegates to the Student Government Association the responsibility for the registration of all student organizations. The Colony has met the requirement to be registered and is in good standing with the Student Government Association.

The members of Pi Sigma Beta have been a positive addition to our campus. I look forward to the contributions the chapter will make to campus life at Penn State-Behrend. My office and staff stand ready to assist, challenge, and support the chapter as it develops.

The members of Pi Sigma Beta Colony at Penn State-Behrend have been active by sponsoring numerous activities. They are a credit to themselves, the College, the University and to Delta Sigma Pi.

Sincerely,

Gentlemen:

This is a letter of support on behalf of the Pi Sigma Beta Colony of the International Fraternity of Delta Sigma Pi. It is my strong recommendation that the colony be granted chapter status.

Last year I discussed with Lee Sloan plans to form a chapter of Delta Sigma Pi at Penn State Erie, The Behrend College. Lee explained the procedure and requested my support for their organizing efforts. I encouraged him and other interested students to go forward and I agreed to provide whatever assistance I could. Actually, I needed little persuading. I became a member of Delta Sigma Pi while on the faculty at Wayne State University in the early 1980s.

Later I met with Mr. Steven R. Whalen of your organization. We discussed the efforts of our students in forming a colony and the benefits a chapter would provide them. I re-affirmed my support for a chapter here at Behrend.

I have reviewed the chapter's calendar of events. The Pi Sigma Beta Colony is very active. Having a chapter here at Behrend will make a great contribution to enriching the educational experience of our business students. I sincerely hope you will give favorable consideration to granting our colony chapter status.

Sincerely,

To the Leaders of Delta Sigma Pi:

I am pleased to recommend the formation of a Delta Sigma Pi chapter at Penn State-Behrend. Based upon my knowledge of the individuals who wish to form this chapter, I am confident that they will be an asset to the academic and social environment of the college.

Thank you.

Sincerely,

To Leaders of Delta Sigma Pi:

Robert Rozman has asked me to write a letter in support of having a chapter of Delta Sigma Pi established here at Penn State-Erie, The Behrend College. I am happy to offer my support because I think it would be asset to Penn State-Behrend. The local chapter could contribute positively to the academic and social atmosphere here at Behrend. Mr. Rozman, who is a student in my class this semester, has told me about numerous charitable functions that he and his student colleagues have already sponsored or participated in although they are not yet an official colony. I believe that this reflects their seriousness and commitment to bringing honor both to their school and to Delta Sigma Pi.

Sincerely,

THE BEHREND COLLEGE OF
PENN STATE UNIVERSITY

HISTORY

Penn State Erie, The Behrend College, is a four-year and graduate college of Penn State University. The College's campus was donated to the University in 1948 by Mary Behrend in memory of her husband, Ernst, a founder (with his father and brother) of Hammermill Paper Company. In offering her family's 400 acre Glennhill Farm Estate to Penn State, Mrs. Behrend was responding to the need, expressed by a committee of prominent Erie residents, for a public, non-sectarian college in Erie.

In 1948, 152 students enrolled at what was known as "The Behrend Center." Those first students could complete only their freshman year at the center. When Penn State reorganized in 1959, the Commonwealth Campus System was established, and the Behrend Center became the Behrend Campus of Penn State. Enrollments and physical expanse of the campus both grew throughout the 1960's and early 1970's. By 1971, over 1,200 students were enrolled.

On January 20, 1973, the Penn State Board of Trustees granted four-year college and graduate status to Penn State-Behrend. Behrend is unique within the Penn State system as the only four-year college of the University not located at the University Park campus.

Today, enrollment is limited to 2,600 undergraduate students who attend classes in original buildings from the Glennhill Farm Estate and in the more recently-constructed academic building, including the award-winning Hammermill and Zurn buildings completed in 1985. Over 900 students are housed in residence halls and student apartments on campus.

The College offers 27 baccalaureate and associate degrees in business, engineering, the humanities, the social sciences, science and technology, as well as the Penn State MBA and MEd graduate programs. Recently, Penn State-Behrend became one of the few colleges nationwide to offer an undergraduate program in plastics engineering technology.

Penn State-Behrend has recorded increasing enrollment for the past 16 semesters and is continuing to expand its facilities. The addition of three new apartment building in 1987, the recent construction of an addition to the Student Union Building and groundbreaking in the near future for an $11 million library/academic complex, are among the indications that Penn State-Behrend is finding success providing the small-college experience with the nationally-recognized Penn State degree.

SCHOOL OF BUSINESS

The educational mission of the Penn State-Behrend School of Business is to provide an opportunity for nationally recognized graduate and undergraduate instruction for students preparing for careers in business and non-profit organizations.

Behrend College began offering four-year majors in business in the mid-1970s. In 1985, an MBA program was started and in 1986 the Penn State Board of Trustees established the School of Business with Behrend College. Today we serve over 650 undergraduate and over 150 MBA students.

ACCOUNTING

The Accounting major provides an opportunity to pursue a unique program that integrates knowledge and skill in accounting and information management. It prepares students for positions in public accounting firms, corporations, and government, where accounting skills are essential. In addition, the Accounting major provides the necessary academic training for students interested in administrative responsibilities in the area of accounting. The major meets the requirements for taking the CPA and CMA professional examinations.

BUSINESS ECONOMICS

Business Economics is a quantitative program of study in applied economics with a strong business focus. Use of mainframe and microcomputers as analytical and problem-solving tools is emphasized in the program's upper-division courses. Students may choose upper-division courses in several areas of specialization, including business cycles and forecasting, economic theory, international economics, labor economics, managerial economics, money and banking, and urban and regional economics.

BUSINESS, LIBERAL ARTS, AND SCIENCE

In the Fall of 1990, the Business and Behavioral Science major was modified and the name was changed to Business, Liberal Arts, and Science. The students that enrolled prior to the change will graduate with the Business and Behavioral Science Degree. This interdisciplinary major provides students with considerable flexibility for customizing a program of study designed to meet individual interests and career goals. Depth of knowledge is achieved through the selection of modules that form the basis of the major. Students select three modules, each of which contains from 12-18 credits and encompasses a discrete subject area. Proper selection of modules will provide good preparation for careers in business and government or for entry into graduate school.

MANAGEMENT

The objective of the Management major is to develop the knowledge, skills, and abilities needed to perform the basic tasks of management--the coordination of human, material, and financial resources toward the accomplishment of organizational goals. The major provides a solid grounding in all of the core areas of business. In addition, Management majors take coursework specifically designed to give greater expertise in the management of the organization's key resource--people. Management majors may further tailor their studies to individual career objectives by choosing from additional courses that allow greater specialization in quantitative methods for managerial decision making or in human resource management.

MANAGEMENT INFORMATION SYSTEMS

The Management Information Systems major offers students a business degree coupled with strong computer and information management skills. MIS differs from computer science in several ways. In MIS, the emphasis is on the solution of business problems rather than on the creation of new knowledge about computing. Where computer science emphasizes the study of computers and computer programming as ends in themselves, MIS emphasizes the application of computer science within an organization to help achieve its goals. Skills include the analysis of information management needs, implementation of large systems and practical technical knowledge, including database management, communications, and programming. The major adheres to the Association of Computing Machinery's curriculum recommendations.

PI SIGMA BETA COLONY

HISTORY

Lee Sloan, the colony president, started his academic career at University Park, Penn State University. He stayed there for his freshman and sophomore years, recognizing the Delta Sigma Pi chapter all along. When Lee moved to the Behrend College, Penn State University, the fraternity was kept in mind. On September 5, 1989, Lee proposed the idea of starting a colony to William Poad, current Senior Vice President of the fraternity. Bill gave affirmation to this idea two days later, and the idea was beginning to shape.

After receiving the address from a friend at the University of Pittsburgh, Lee and Bill sent a letter of interest to The Central Office, and requested information about starting a colony at Behrend College. Upon receiving information from Delta Sigma Pi, Lee and Bill consulted with C. Dean Ferguson and decided to continue with the project in the Spring semester of 1990.

Lee and Bill still kept in touch with Oxford, Ohio, and C. Dean Ferguson over the Christmas recess. They single-handedly gathered the names of all business students at Behrend College. Furthermore, Lee and Bill filled the business students mailboxes with the professional pamphlets and fliers just before the arrival of the Spring semester, ending their own break early.

Launching into the Spring semester head first, they invited Richard Parnitzke, Past Grand President of the fraternity, to come make a presentation. Mr. Parnitzke graciously accepted and brought the Alpha Kappa Chapter brothers from the State University of New York, Buffalo, to make a presentation.

On February 6, 1990, the Delta Sigma Pi Colony at Behrend College had its first meeting. The by-laws were approved and election of officers began to shape the executive committee.

Elected that evening were Lee Sloan as President, William Poad as Senior Vice President, Edward Brink as Vice President of Pledge Education, Cindy Cleveland as Vice President of Professional Activities, Robert Rozman as Vice President of Chapter Operations, Charlotte Brown as Secretary, Serene Jones as Treasurer, Eric Miller as Chancellor and Heath Kolodziej as Historian.

A letter of intent to petition was sent to The Central Office of the International Fraternity on February 20, 1990. On March 6, 1990, the first executive committee meeting was held, the dreams of these two men, Lee and Bill, were coming true. To round out the first semester of progress, on April 19, 1990, the first professional activity was held. This event, a speaker from the Society of Retired Entrepreneurs, was attended by members of the new colony and Past Grand President, Richard Parnitzke. Along with the professional activities, a car wash was held to raise money and a picnic held at Presque Isle State Park. These events not only educated the new members of this colony, but brought them closer together. And a foundation for growth and success was laid with thanks and gratitude to two men with a great vision.

One Lee Sloan, born on September 10, 1969, started his college career in engineering, only to switch to business his sophomore year. He is an Accounting major from Monroeville, Pennsylvania, who plans to graduate in May of 1991. A graduate of Gateway High School in 1987, his other activities are intramural sports, Accounting Club member and student member of the National Association of Accountants. A great supporter of Lee's in the fraternity is William Poad, Senior Vice President of the colony. Bill is a 1986 graduate from Brockway Area High School who is also an Accounting major. After starting his academic career at Virginia Polytechnic Institute, he transferred into the Penn State system at the DuBois campus, and then moved on to Behrend College. Bill is also graduating in May of 1991. Both men bringing their academic careers to an end with superior results, and are ready to hand their creation over to future leaders of this wonderful organization of fraternal brotherhood.

Dear Sirs:

We are Junior students majoring in Accounting at the Behrend College of The Pennsylvania State University and are interested in obtaining a charter of Delta Sigma Pi at our College. We feel that there would be great interest in a professional business fraternity here at Behrend.

Since there is no fraternity of this type at Behrend, we would like to know how to go about forming a chapter. Any information that you could send us regarding this matter would be greatly appreciated.

Sincerely yours,

William Poad

Dear Mr. Parnitzke:

I am writing to tell you that on Tuesday February 6, the Pi Sigma Beta Colony of Delta Sigma Pi had its first meeting. We had a pretty good turn out at the meeting; we collected thirty-four (34) membership sheets. This turn out was even better than we had anticipated. Since the meeting, we have also collected a few more membership sheets from people who could not make it to our meeting.

During the meeting we approved the constitution and bylaws and elected officers among other things. We also voted to send our application to the Student Government Association and we are currently awaiting approval.

I received your letter, and will be sending you information concerning our first meeting in March. Penn State's spring break is from February 26 until March 2. We will probably be having a meeting sometime during the first week back from spring break.

We are all looking forward to having you come down and meet with us again. Enclosed is a copy of the minutes from the February 6 meeting and also a list of the elected officers.

Mr. Ferguson:

I am writing to you as the President of the Pi Sigma Beta Colony of Delta Sigma Pi at the Behrend College of Penn State University. I wish to inform you that there is great interest in establishing a chapter of Delta Sigma Pi here at Behrend .

Over the course of the present semester we plan to fulfill the requirements of Delta Sigma Pi as well as meet our own goals and objectives. In just the first few weeks of this semester there has already been great interest in the fraternity and I believe that we have reached only a small part of the students who would be interested. With the formation of our recruiting committee, we are on our way toward better informing the student body of the many attributes and qualities of Delta Sigma Pi.

The newly elected officers of the colony are extremely dedicated to establishing a chapter of Delta Sigma Pi at Behrend. Each officer has accepted the challenge of their respective positions and is looking forward to doing what ever is necessary in the future in pursuit of that goal.

Past Grand President, Richard Parnitzke along with the Alpha Kappa chapter at the University of New York at Buffalo have been providing us with assistance. We are looking forward to working with them in the future.

I feel that our colony, with continued hard work and dedication, would make a fine addition to Delta Sigma Pi.

Sincerely,
